ARMY REPORTS 2ND BOMBING IN GERMANY

Denazification Record Office Hit by Explosion; No Casualties.

By The Associated Press

FRANKFURT, Oct. 28—The American military government announced today that terrorists, striking, for the second time in eight days, exploded a bomb on a windowsill of the denazification board office at Esslingen last night.

By noon today 10 persons had been taken into custody for questioning including one person who was said to have been seen running away from the building a few minutes after the explosion.

Security troops cordoned off the area and bloodhounds were called into action in an attempt to lead the investigators to the terrorists.

Last night's bombing damaged only the outside of the building at Esslingen, the announcement said. No one was hurt. The bomb was believed to be of the same type as was used in the Stuttgart explosion.

The explosion occurred at 8:28 p. m. (2:28 p. m. EST), just after an American patrol had passed the building near the center of town.

Planted by Same Men

Army agents said they believed the bomb was planted by the same man or group responsible for the previous triple bombing in and near Stuttgart, which is only six miles northwest of Esslingen.

Soon after the blast rocked the town, security troops and German police rushed to the scene. Patrols were combing the area for the culprits this morning.

Army security officers said that the building stands in front of a canal and that foosteps were discovered leading from the canal to the building, but that these had been partially destroyed by troops who rushed to the scene.

Approached by Boat

The officers speculated that the perpetrators of the explosion approached the denazification building by boat.

The explosion, though it was heard over the entire town, caused no excitement or unrest among the civilian population, the officers said.

Capt. Nicholas Semeschow of Greensboro, N. C., military government security officer, said that the bomb was the same kind used in last week's bombing in Stuttgart. The Stuttgart bombs were made from the casings of a 105 millimeter shell casing.

Semeschow said a German policeman was in front of the building when the bomb exploded.

The bomb was placed on the window sill outside the denazification board room . . It blew out the windows of the room containing the records of Nazi sympathizers and members, but did not harm the papers, Semeschow said.

GERMAN GIRL TO WED IN U. S. Described by her proud fiance as the first German fiancee to be brought to the United States by a former soldier, Hildegarde Wagner, 22, arrives at LaGuardia Field, New York, by plane from Frankfurt with her husband-to-be, Otto Heinkle, 20, of Hollywood, Calif. Heinkle, a former T/5 in the Air Corps, and his fiancee were both employed at the U. S. Army Ordnance Depot in Frankfurt. The flight culminated a 14-month effore by Heinkle to get the necessary permits and plane reservations to bring a German national to the U. S.

Reds Lead In Bulgarian Vote

Apparently Have Won Working Majority in New Legislature.

By The Associated Press

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 28—The Communist-dominated Fatherland Front was reported by the government today to have won 296 assembly seats to 83 for the united opposition parties in returns from 98 districts in the Sunday elections.

The assembly will have 465 members and thus the Fatherland Front already was assured a working majority.

The announcement said most of the candidates elected were of the Workers' Party (Communists).

The election marked the first outright opposition challenge of the Fatherland Front's two-year rule.

(Sofia Radio, in a broadcast recorded by CBS in New York, said early returns "show a crushing victory of the Fatherland Front over the opposition," with the Workers' (Communist) Party "easily leading over all the rest.")

Sixty per cent of the eligible voters were reported to have cast ballots in the eleven region, 75 per cent each in the Varna and Gorna Djourmaia regions and 95 per cent in the Svoge region.

Newsmen who visited a number of polling stations found ballots of all parties, both of the Fatherland Front and the opposition, at the disposal of electors.

Twice in the weeks preceding the election the American representative on the Allied control commission for Bulgaria—representing U. S., Britain and Russia—had proposed and the Russians had rejected measures to guarantee a free and fair election. Diplomatic correspondence on the matter passed between the United States and Bulgarian governments.

The Front took over the government two years ago and switched Bulgaria from the Axis to the Allied side in the war. Last Nov. 18, the opposition boycotted an election in which only one slate was offered. This year opositionists put up a fight.

FUND CAMPAIGN IN FINAL WEEK

Community Workers Hope To Reach Goal Before Report Meeting.

With the final report meeting set for Wednesday night, workers in the Marion Community Foundation's campaign to raise $67,190 today renewed their task of enlisting subscriptions from well wishers of the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Girl Reserves, Y. M. C. A., the Hospital and Medical Care fund and the two national service organizations, the USO and United Seamen's organization. The report meeting will be held at 6:30 Wednesday night at the Masonic temple.

E. L. Cleveland, head of the foundation, J. J. Stafford, campaign chairman, and the workers are backing up their hopes of a successful campaign with downright hard work in the way of soliciting subscriptions. With a week's campaign behind them, the workers are not slackening in their efforts to reach the goal by deadline. While reports are encouraging, there still is a substantial amount to be raised before the goal is reached, Mr. Stafford said today. Contributions must equal those of last year if we are successful, he added. The workers are trying to reach everyone, the chairman points out, but in some instances persons are away from home or out of their places of business and can not be contacted. In the event that anyone is missed, contributions may be made to any of the workers or at the Community Foundation headquarters at 142½ East Center street.

First report meeting, held Thursday night, showed around $25,000 in cash and pledges, less than half of the goal.

RUSS CHARGE MILITARISM

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 28—The Moscow radio said today that "a new military caste" was being created in the United States and was beginning to "set the tone in the country's economy and policy."

EGYPT ASKS UN TO PROTECT MIDDLE EAST

Delegate Fires Round at Britain in Request Foreign Troops Withdraw.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Egypt, long a contender against British forces within her boundaries, called on the United Nations today to guarantee the countries of the strategic Middle East against domination by the great powers.

In a speech before the UN assembly as the fourth day of general debate opened, Mohamed Hussein Heykal Pasha also called for condemnation of "the maintenance of military forces on the territory of any country without the specific consent of the government involved."

Egypt has been involved in an old dispute with Britain over the presence of British soldiers in that land, but some diplomatic officials hoped that with a tentative agreement on the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan which was announced last night at Cairo a solution of the Anglo-Egyptian row might be close at hand. However, they conceded this was made highly uncertain by Prime Minister Attlee's denial to commons today that Britain had pledged a withdrawal from the Sudan.

Later in the session Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia told the United Nations today that his country stands guard over "the very heart of Europe" and appealed before the asembly for unanimous agreement among the great powers, because that way "the little countries will have a much better chance."

Czechoslovakia, which lies in the Russian zone of eastern Europe and has a long tradition of friendship with America and the west generally, wishes "to live in friendship and political and economic cooperation with all free and democratic countries," he said.

He scoffed at talk of an "iron curtain" cutting off his land and invited fellow delegates to come and see for themselves, promising they would have "no trouble" obtaining permission to enter. Masaryk spoke as the 51-nation assembly pushed forward through its fourth day of general debate.

Austin To Make Speech

Before today's session opened, chief American delegate Warren R. Austin told the United States delegation that he intended to made a policy speech to the general assembly before the debate closes Wednesday.

He is expected to declare officially the United States opposition—along with that of Russia—to any change in the UN charter veto provisions at this time but to couple with that the hope that use of the veto by the great powers in the security council would be restricted.

Whether the American chief delegate would also touch on another UN hot potato—the demand by various nations for action against Franco Spain—appeared uncertain. Austin probably will

Supper To Precede Democratic Meeting

Marion county Democrats will hold a cafeteria supper and rally tonight, beginning at 5:30 p. m. in the Democratic club headquarters on West Center street.

Main speaker will be Joseph T. Ferguson, state auditor. All county Democratic candidates are expected to be present. The program is sponsored by the Marion county Dmocratic club and the Women's Democratic club. Mrs. Harry V. Armstrong of LaRue is general chairman in charge.

The cafeteria supper will be served by the Women's Democratic club.

MARION STUDENT ATTENDS UNITED NATIONS MEETING

Eastman Will Represent University at Assembly Session.

David Duane Eastman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Eastman of 298 Hane avenue left Washington D. C. today for New York City, where he will attend the meetings of the general assembly of the United Nations. Mr. Eastman has been named to a student commission which is being sent to the United Nations assembly as observers for the foreign affairs division of George Washington university.

Mr. Eastman is a freshman in the school of government of the George Washington university preparing for the United States foreign service. He is a member of the Alpha Nu chapter of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, the Canterbury club, the International club and is acting activities chairman of the freshmen council. He is a graduate of Harding High school of the class of 1945 where he was active in student affairs and editor in his senior year of the "Quivera," the year book.

WOMAN, CHILD RIDE IN DRIVERLESS CAR

Car Crosses Street, Crashes Into Porch.

A Marion woman and a three-year-old girl took a short but exciting ride in a driverless car across Bellefontaine avenue Saturday at 6:45 p. m.

The ride ended at the front porch of the Paul Drake residence at 542 Bellefontaine avenue. It had started a few moments before in the driveway of the Riffee Rest Home at 545 Bellefontaine avenue.

Occupants of the car were Mrs. Anne Palmer of 26 Cottage street, an employe at the Riffee establishment, and Pattie Ann Riffee, 3, adopted daughter of Mrs. Delphia Riffee. They were unhurt.

The car and front porch did not fare so well, however. The car, owned by Mrs. Riffee, was considerable damaged, and an awning rack and porch swing at the Drake home were broken, and clapboards torn loose from the corner of the house.

John Witt, 30, an employe of the Riffee Rest Home was the missing driver. He told police he had been unable to start the machine and had gotten out to look under the hood. He instructed Mrs. Palmer to step on the starter and when she did the motor caught and the car, in gear, started moving. He attempted to catch the moving vehicle but was unable to do so. Mrs. Palmer is unable to drive.

COAL CRISIS HEADS TOWARD SHOWDOWN

Complications Delay Shipping

Houston Union Disapproves Truce Negotiated with Operators.

By The Associated Press

New complications appeared today which might further delay settlement of the maritime dispute that has halted ship sailings on all three U. S. coasts for 27 days.

A partial maritime peace seemed just over the horizon when East and Gulf coast operators signed new contracts with two unions, but objections from union locals may delay putting the agreements into effect.

In other major strikes, increased pressure was noted for government seizure of Trans-World Airlines, which has been shut down by a pilot strike; and a basis for peace was found in the jurisdictional dispute which has hampered Hollywood motion picture production for a month.

Although the uneasiness mounted, there was no government reply to John L. Lewis' demand for discussions on the present soft coal contract. Lewis has backed his demands with threat of a strike, which would start just four days before the Nov. 5 elections.

The possibility that resumption of maritime operations might be further delayed came as the result of an announcement that the Houston local of the CIO Marine Engineers Benefit association disapproved the new agreement reached with East and Gulf coast operators.

William G. Kellogg, Houston strike chairman, said the new agreement violated the union's constitution.

Terms of the MEBA agreement with East and Gulf coast owners have not been announced, but were reported to have boosted wage levels 15 per cent. The union had asked 35 per cent. The MMP agreement provided a basic monthly wage on liberty ships from $581 for masters to $265 for fourth mates, as compared with $505 and $230 formerly.

In Hollywood, the warring Conference of Studio Unions and its rival, the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, both AFL members, agreed to submit their grievances to arbitration, without work stoppages. The month-old strike continued but CSU leader Herbert K. Sorrell said his men would return as soon as contracts involving wages are negotiated for 12 unions.

In New Orleans, the mayor and other city officials donned old clothes today to direct a crew of volunteers in picking up five days of garbage left on the sidewalks by a strike of collectors.

TEACHER MEETS HER ROYAL PUPIL. At the school of peers, near Tokyo, Mrs. Grey Vining of Philadelphia checks up on the work of her royal pupil, Prince Akihito, 14, eldest son of the Jap emperor. Truman Cabinet Will Remain Intact, Observers Forecast

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—Highly placed administration officials said today President Truman will try to keep his present cabinet intact during the year ahead.

One top rank aide, describing Mr. Truman's primary personnel problem as the accumulation of vacancies in other high level posts, added: "Everybody seems to talk about cabinet changes except the boss himself."

This official, in daily touch with the Chief Executive, said Mr. Truman will be guided largely by the wishes of Secretary of State Byrnes in naming a new ambassador to London. W. Averell Harriman was brought home recently to replace the ousted Henry A. Wallace as commerce secretary after Wallace took issue with Byrnes' foreign policy.

Conference Delayed

Byrnes' work with the Paris peace conference and on preparations for the coming four-power foreign ministers' meeting in New York Nov 4, plus the President's own preoccupation with the meat and other problems, have delayed a get-together on this vacancy, one of nine waiting to be filled.

Five involve the congressional created atomic energy commission. The other three are federal communications chairman, solicitor general and loan administrator. Here's the picture:

Atomic energy—Mr. Truman signed the bill setting up the domestic control agency Aug. 1. Since then, however, he has run into difficulty finding five men who would be able to work together as a "team."

Lilienthal Leads

Top consideration for the chairmanship has been given to Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Tennessee Valley Authority. But Lilienthal has been torn between his desire to accept and his hesitancy to leave the vast power project.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) has said he would oppose Lilienthal's confirmation. He also would have to be confirmed with to get the top engineering authority in the TVA.

Britons, Yanks Speak Same Tongue—Almost

By RUSSELL LAWDERBOR
Associated Press Writer

LONDON, Oct. 28—Years of close trans-Atlantic partnership in war and peace have underscored the argument that although Britons and Americans speak the same language they don't mean the same thing by it.

Contemporary history and daily life are authored by the unofficial mixture of Anglo-American idiomatic confusion which prevailed during the years of what the Britons call the peaceful "Occupation."

For years to come the 3,000,000 American soldiers who crowded over remnants of the king's English as it used to be understood will.

On this side, too, there are plenty of amusing reminiscences of the Americans' pigeon patter and of their use of candy and gum as bait to persuade children to take "English" for them.

Split at Cross Purposes

But the end of the war in Europe brought the kind of personal encounter the visitors and the folk at home enjoyed the most—with the element of understanding.

"I get it now," he said. "I don't know that you meant a washboard."

On many such baffling occasions, pointing to differences of language and of concept the following a struggle between American and the middle-aged matron is especially apt.

The guest, wanting to be amiable in the manner of a country some inconvenience the part of Attempting with friendly enthusiasm said: "You might feel the heat outside if you'd come from the south."

"Southern?" "I mean from the Mediterranean."

"Oh, you have been in the ... the American asked.

"What an odd phrase. We don't have cellos there. For the matter we don't have them anywhere. We simply keep the pelts and in the hall when it is not being used."

Confused But Galled

More than somewhat confused, the American went gallantly into the hall and came back with the cub of wisdom, as face glowing with the light of understanding.

"I get it now," he said. "I don't know that you meant a washboard."

"Bathroom" [illegible]

"Bathroom, what do you ... a bath, that is ... I ... going to get at what to ... do ..."

"You have ... you ... puzzled you make ..."

Yank Is Persistent

[illegible] Americans [illegible] ... "I ... you ... take a bath ... I ... and ... most particularly. You don't make a parade around in the country ... of course you sometimes ... take a modest session ... use a kind of washtub. And ... using with apples ... it ... like a washtub to me."

"I'd never ... a washtub," the hostess exclaimed.

"That's the other point to be cleared up. Do you mean 'boiled'?"

"No, I don't. That's what you do in the sea, or in a river or ... a pool or something such as that."

"You ... there" he suggested.

Matter Dropped

Apparently having ... rejoinder matters were at ... way.

A Kensington fam... a guest of ... a wartime customer of ... tubes—"valves" over here. ... head of the house, a textile ... er, had been ... by American nomenclature. Rather "tubes" floored him. "What has the underground system got to do with the ... at all?" he asked helplessly. In his mind, the only tube was London's subway.

An ex-GI living in England thought it was indelicate for a lady to talk about a "stop-cock" at the dinner table.

He was only moderately perturbed when he was informed that description of [illegible] to dump the fixer.

Certain other words and phrases seem even less related to overseas usage. But as they are used casually, sometimes even by the best people, it is concluded that the English are more Elizabethan now than they ever were.

HIGH HONOR WON BY MARION DOCTOR

Dr. J. L. Plymale Named by College of Surgeons.

Dr. Jay L. Plymale, M. D., Marion surgeon, was granted a diploma and membership into the international College of Surgeons at the eighth assembly and convention held in Detroit, Mich., Oct. 17 to 22. The college is composed of an association of professional surgeons with chapters in the United States, England, Canada, France, and many other Southern American and European countries. To obtain membership in the college of surgeons are required to have finished a high standard of post graduate surgical training in general surgery or surgical specialties and to meet further educational requirements. The college grants four degrees, namely, matriculate, associate, associate in surgery, and fellowship.

Dr. Plymale was granted the diploma as associate fellow, the fellowship being reserved for prominent surgeons over 45 years of age. At the week's convention in the U. S. chapter in Detroit, which was attended by approximately 2,000 surgeons and guests, among the hundred or more prominent speakers who presented papers were Dr. Gordon Heyde of New York City, Dr. Max Thorek of Chicago and Dr. Hamilton Bailey of London, England. At the colorful convocation held in the Masonic Temple at which Dr. Plymale received his degree in Tuesday evening, Joseph C. Grew former ambassador to Japan was principal speaker.

After three years' active service with the medical corps Dr. Plymale returned to Marion in December of 1945 and has recently completed a new office at 367 South Main street for the practice of otolaryngology and surgery in association with Dr. J. A. McNamara, osteopathic Dr. Plymale also is a Fellow American Medical Association, junior member American College Surgeons, and corresponding member New York City Academy of Medicine.

Hepburn Couple Wed 65 Years

HEPBURN, Oct. 28—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Slagle of Hepburn, O., celebrated their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 26, in an open house in the afternoon presented by a family dinner at 6 p.m. The celebrants received more than 100 guests during the afternoon and were also given a number of gifts and congratulatory cards. Refreshments were served by their only granddaughter, Mrs. Stanley Grossman of Lakewood, O.

A feature of the day was the presence of Mrs. J. O. Sherrick of Demarilla who attended the wedding of the couple Oct. 26, 1881. She was three years old at the time and the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Harvey of near Marion, in whose home the ceremony was read. Mrs. Harvey was an aunt of Mr. Slagle. Officiating for the ceremony was Rev. Matthews, pastor of the Methodist church in Marion.

The bride of 65 years ago was Miss Alice Plymire of California, daughter of James and Marie Gallentine Plymire. Mr. Slagle's parents were Jacob and Jennie Post Slagle of near California. Mr. and Mrs. Slagle set up housekeeping at California and lived there seven years. They then moved to Logansport, Ind., where they lived for five years. Following this they returned to Harrison county and have resided in and near Hepburn for 48 years. Mr. Slagle is a retired farmer. Mrs. Slagle is 84 years of age, and Mr. Slagle is 85.

Mr. and Mrs. Slagle are parents of two living children, Edmond of Painesville, O., and Mrs. Lloyd Virden of Hepburn.

Attending the family dinner at noon with the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Slagle of Painesville, O., and Mrs. Stanley Grossman and son, Donald of Lakewood, Mrs. Florence Grandon of Kenton, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Virden of Hepburn.

YOUR KITCHEN

The Most Beautiful Room in Your Home

There's no sense in putting up with an old out-moded Kitchen. Save yourself hundreds of steps every day—Save work. Make your kitchen modern, handy and easy to clean

Lennon's expert planners will design a kitchen that will make your workroom the envy of every one who sees it. They will help you create a lovely, cheerful room where preparing meals will be a pleasure.

Isn't it true that today we all do nearly as much entertaining in the kitchen as in the Living Room? It's more intimate. Less formal. You have more fun there.

It won't cost you one penny to have our Planning Department present a sketch showing your New Kitchen in all its gleaming beauty. And you'll be surprised to learn how little it will cost to convert a drab, uninteresting Kitchen into a room of charm and distinction.

You may buy just a piece at a time or the complete kitchen—but be sure yours is a Lennon Kitchen.

Have you seen the new model kitchen on our first floor? You're welcome

Wide Stage Experience Backs Peters in "Life With Father"

When Brandon Peters came to New York City from the upstate city of Troy he won a scholarship at the noted American Academy of Dramatic Arts. His subsequent distinguished career in the theater shows how worthy of this scholarship he was and how excellently qualified he is for one of the most coveted roles in American stage history, that of Father Day in "Life With Father," which comes to the Palace theater Wednesday, Nov. 6.

His first professional acting experience was in the great theater classics. This included work with a Shakespearean Repertory company headed by R. D. MacLean. Charles B. Hanford and Odette Tyler, followed by two seasons with Margaret Anglin at the famous Greek theater in Berkeley, Cal.

While on the west coast he first encountered one of his lifelong friends, Howard Lindsay who is now noted in the theater as the co-author of "Life With Father" and the first actor to play the part Mr. Peters plays. At that time Lindsay was another youthful actor getting along at the movies as a worker backstage.

Served In First World War

The next time their two paths crossed Mr. Peters had just completed service as an infantry lieutenant in the first World war. In a mess he met he was marching at Brest France prior to embarking for the United States, he discovered his old friend, now Sgt. Lindsay. The reunion was happy, although short-lived, as the latter was not able to leave France as soon as Mr. Peters.

Back in civilian clothes he immediately landed a job in "The Light," the first play written by Oscar Hammerstein II, who is now the renowned author of "Show Boat," Carmen Jones, "Oklahoma" and other great American musical shows.

But Mr. Hammerstein's first drama did not last long and Mr. Peters promptly moved into one of the great and successful plays of the 1920's, "John Ferguson." Here his performance drew such favorable notice that he won engagements in a succession of good plays, "Little Old New York," "March Hares" and "Mixed Marriage." Later he played Cellini in "The Firebrand," replaced John Barrymore in "The Jest" and appeared in "The Buccaneer" and "The Dybbuk."

Acted In Australia

Mr. Peters later went to Australia to do "The Trial of Mary Dugan." Opening night in Sydney provided him with one of his most treasured moments, for after the curtain came down the wildly enthusiastic audience came to its feet to cheer and call his name. With this and two other dramas the actor stayed in Australia and New Zealand for two and one-half years appearing record runs in most of the largest cities "down under."

BRANDON PETERS

He had been back in this country only a few days when he was hired to appear opposite Judith Anderson in "As You Desire Me." Other engagements with Wendy Hiller in "Love on the Dole" and George M. Cohan in "Fulton of Oak Falls" followed, ending with a summer season at Elitch's Gardens in Denver, Colo., where he met Alice Thomson, who became Mrs. Peters and plays opposite him in "Life With Father."

The advent of the war found Mr. Peters ineligible for the army so he promptly went to work for the Office of War Information supervising broadcasting operations in New York. Later he and his wife joined a USO company playing "Junior Miss" in the Pacific theater—a memorable tour that occupied several months and brought him back to the country in February of this year.

Since then he has appeared in New York, playing Hitler in a drama called "The Day We Come" and making numerous training films for the navy.

The Palace is bringing "Life With Father" here in what is hoped to be a revival of the legitimate theater in Marion.

YOUTH MEETING

Mrs. S. M. Ingmire, formerly of Marion, was hostess to Circle No. 7 of Epworth Methodist church in her country home near Worthington Thursday. A potluck luncheon was served at noon. Mrs. Ingmire conducted devotions and Mrs. Earl Hale sang. A report was given of 80 sick calls made. Visiting the Worthington Children's home, the circle made a tour of the buildings, and heard a talk by Rev. E. L. Morrell, superintendent. Tea was served at the home to 30 members of the visiting group. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Frances Bryans of 410 East Center street. Mrs. Frank Knapp was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

RUBBER STRIKE ENDS

By The Associated Press

BARBERTON, O., Oct. 28—Production was resumed today at the Seiberling Rubber Co. plant, ending a four-day work stoppage resulting from the discharge of a mill room employe. Charles Thomas, union vice president, said the local upheld the company's action in dismissing the employe who used obscene language in a dispute with his foreman.

Real Price Control Begins

NOTHING could be farther from the truth than the notion that price control is being abandoned and therefore everything will be more expensive. Price control—the real thing—is being established. What is being abandoned is government price fixing.

Price control, as exercised by the public, was supported in varying degrees as government became the major personal customer and the aftermath of prices after Pearl Harbor. What was called price control was government price fixing, which caused certain fields to group themselves about an official common denominator.

Price controllers talked glibly about price ceilings, but rarely about price floors, which were the other effect of stabilization. By the latter that a price established could not rise without government consent; a controlled price never went without government command. The ceiling became the floor. The economic rule that a maximum price becomes the minimum and a minimum wage becomes the maximum was confirmed.

Announcement of price control gives the price system back to consumers. As controls are removed and, with them, the regulations that enable government to create scarcity by manipulating supply and demand, commodities and services will command only what consumers will pay no more. Barring continuation of shortages through strikes, consumers will begin to regain their former privilege of choice between the highest and lowest prices in various fields; i. e., between beefsteak at a dollar and beefsteak at 85 cents.

Consumers are about to regain their former authority to judge quality, quantity and price on the basis of merit. Competition is going to return to business. Economic parasites will be broken there. Price control—the real thing—is now beginning.

Coming Their Way

WAR department officials charged with responsibility for military personnel are enjoying the best news of a lifetime. Recently, they canceled all further draft calls for 1946. Volunteers had filled manpower demands. Now they are able to announce that all men drafted in 1945 will be released by Jan. 1. Volunteers will take their places. All inept draftees since 1945 are to be screened out, furthermore. There are enough volunteers in sight to give the army the kind of manpower it wants.

Within a few months, upward of a million men with military experience who still have not found employment as civilians will become potential additions to the potential supply of army volunteers. The prospect for a continuous high rate of volunteering is bright until the end of March, when congress must decide what to do about a permanent military policy.

It then will remain to be seen whether the new rates of military pay and the other measures adopted to make army service more attractive will give the war department what it always has dreamed of having—the privilege of maintaining a volunteer standing army of men who make a free choice of a military career.

Lidice: One More Death

ON JUNE 10, 1942, the Berlin radio blared an official announcement that all male adults of the Czechoslovak village of Lidice had been killed, all women sent to concentration camps and the children turned over to "educational" institutions in reprisal for the murder of Reinhardt Heydrich. There were 438 inhabitants. Their village was razed. So far as is known, none of the residents of the village had anything to do with the murder of Heydrich, who deserved it. Their alleged crime was to give shelter to the murderers.

Four years and a few months after Lidice, the single event that did most to shock Germany's enemies into realization of the kind of terror being losed under Nazi rule, the German who gave the order to destroy the town finally has been hanged. He was a minor official, carrying out the spirit of his organization. Apparently in imitation of Hermann Goering, he tried to escape the gallows by committing suicide, but his attempt failed.

It is apparent that a great many of the people who were sick and horrified when they heard about Lidice in 1942 are beginning in 1946 to think about World War II as something that occurred a long time ago. Details like Lidice are becoming a blur. Germany itself and its once-formidable military power are being discussed academically. Soft minds are generating soft thoughts about the mass execution of human beings whose only crime was that they were in the way of a master plan to put all of Europe—and tomorrow the world—under Germany domination.

Perhaps there is a bulletin board somewhere in the former skating rink where delegates to the United Nations Assembly are newly-convened to consider what must be done to avert more Lidices. Perhaps someone may be thoughtful enough of the future to pin a reminder on the bulletin board of what happened a few yesterdays ago to a Czechoslovak village during World War II.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Truman's Speech Held Great Significance for Peace.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—The most significant news development of the week was that Mr. Truman's speech could be more than a welcome to UN—indeed a major peace speech. But when he delivered it, the exceptionally [illegible] it figured as if it were a restatement of well-known peace aspirations and barely held up its head against such developments that day as Churchill's unexpected blast on whether the Russians have 25% divisions (possibly 2,000,000 men) in occupied Europe. Moscow's advertisement of another "cut" of an unstated amount in its war budget which was supposed to have been cut by $10,000,000,000 already—and the unprecedented politeness of Molotov at UN. These latter three unexpected simultaneous developments were what really interested people more than Mr. Truman's peace philosophy although none of them were definite. One local morning paper did not even have an editorial on the Truman speech, and the other one carried an editorial which said things almost as platitudinous as Mr. Truman himself might say.

Actually those who were in on the diplomacy of the speech, however recognized it as an all encompassing major world development. Insert the question of Russia and her future between every line and you will learn why the inner group read it with eagerness. Or keep the Wallace declaration and the planned collection of appeasers in mind, and you will be stung with its proper import.

Lays Down Official Policy

What Mr. Truman deliberately did was to lay down an official policy of actual individual freedom as the American cornerstone upon which to build world peace—minus all the previously uttered confusions at San Francisco, London and Paris as to what freedom is. He stated the case properly and unmistakably at long last. He not only demanded a peace of justice, but told what justice is. At last he said a forced agreement was no agreement at all. An imposed understanding cannot be a lasting understanding. He called for genuine mutual understanding, and he confessed the Big Four does not have it yet.

That these words are almost precisely the same as you have read in this spot since early 1943 (see my book of columns, Practical Idealism) is of no importance. People who rate never read this column or even the President's speech have now come to believe these things—the country is united on them; that is the important thing. The world shaking significance of this speech was that this government has proclaimed them. The government in short has stopped kidding in international policy.

Against this development, the others rank second. Actually this government had no budgetary knowledge of the effectiveness of Moscow's war budget slashes a week after they were advertised on the Russian radio. Some military hints were available, and these all recognized that the slashes presumably were for next year (not this one) and therefore were, at best, plans for the future. Our military people have heard Russia has far more than 200 divisions in Europe, although no one knows how many. Good sources privately believe the Russians are concentrating on building a large airborne army, have heard reports of substantial concentrations of Russian aircraft, and have noted particularly that the last Moscow radio said there will be no cuts in the air army (the one which will really fight in an atomic age, as the land army must be of a policing nature), or in the navy (which is unimportant because Russia has few ships). Rumors have frequently reached official ears that Russia may move against Turkey and the Dardanelles. The truth is we do not know much about this whole matter.

Russian Air Army

We know Russia has been building up her air arm and spending large sums for atomic research (having purged many of those formerly placed in top scientific positions) and is concentrating these new factories back behind the Urals away from bombing. But this is about all we know.

Now Mr. Molotov's sudden acquisition of western manners of politeness at UNA has caused more high talk here than the Truman speech or the Russian army. This is in full contrast not only with the San Francisco organization meeting of UN, when Molotov was almost brutally isolationist socially as well as politically—and with the last Paris meeting just over, when Molotov pushed Mr. Byrnes around in their private conferences, at the outset, as if he did not exist. Russian statements breathed fire, antagonism and what might be called vetoism. Not so at the New York opening where Molotov thanked nearly everyone for everything publicly, and even congratulated Mr. Truman.

Few hardy souls will yet predict this means Russia is coming around to a gracious acceptance of common grounds for peace. The most careful common interpretation is that Moscow has altered her social line, and even perhaps her political line, to an extent which is not yet clear. She could not stand up before the world in her belligerently isolated position. Certainly the peace debates at UN may be on a more friendly and hopeful plane.

How Do They Picket In Parachutes?

Pilots of one of the nation's major airlines have been on strike for more money.

Their demands range from $1,096 to $1,187 a month . . . plus, one naturally assumes, time and a half for overtime.

Not since Babe Ruth tangled with Colonel Ruppert has haggling been carried on at such a level.

When airlines advertise "The Sky's the Limit" they don't mean on wages. Heretofore, one has needed an oxygen mask to negotiate in the stratosphere.

Of course, one can see the pilots' side. It's second nature with birdmen to feather their nests.

The strike provided a refreshing note. With everything else going up, it was a novelty to find someone who wanted a raise.

Might Try This On Courthouse Sparrows

By The Associated Press

KLAMATH FALLS. Ore. The U. S. fish and wildlife service decided to throw some light on the problem of wild ducks gobbling up the grain from harvest-heavy fields. So experts rigged a big revolving searchlight on a truck and drove it into the grain. The flashing beam scares the ducks off, and after a few frights, they don't return to that field. In the daytime, farmers use sound effects: simulated hand grenades, tossed out of planes flying at 700 feet, and exploding with a terrifying noise but no harm directly over the ducks.

Police in Bulgaria literally earmark known pickpockets with indelible ink.

Thanksgiving Day, 1946

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—This year there is no controversy over the day to be set aside to gobble the gobbler.

There are only four Thursdays in November, so Thanksgiving will have to be the last one.

The nationwide controversy over when Thanksgiving should be observed has worn a little thin anyway since congress in 1941 set the fourth Thursday as the official feast day.

Some states continued to pick their own date when there were five Thursdays in the month. Last year Tennessee and Arkansas observed the last, or fifth, Thursday. All other states observed the holiday a week earlier.

The split grew out of a proclamation by President Roosevelt in 1939. In an effort to provide a longer period between Thanksgiving and Christmas, he ordered Thanksgiving to be the next-to-last instead of the last Thursday. In some years this would make Thanksgiving the third Thursday.

F. D. R. had acted at the request of retail merchants who thought their Christmas business might pick up if there were a longer shopping period between the holidays.

Many governors ignored the change and clung to the traditional date, the last Thursday in the month, originally set by President Lincoln in 1864.

In 1941 President Roosevelt announced that the expected commercial benefits had failed to develop. Later by a house joint resolution, the fourth Thursday was set as the date anyway.

Whether congress or state governors get the final say seems to be a moot question. Perhaps some day the U. S. supreme court will be asked to decide once and for all who is the final authority on declaring holidays.

Meanwhile, the department of agriculture says there'll be enough turkey and trimmings for everybody.

It is estimated that the civilian per capita supply will allow 4½ pounds of turkeys to every person. The supply last year provided for 4 1/3 pounds. In prewar years from 1935 to 1939 there were only 2.6 pounds per person.

Because of increased buying power, there will be a broader demand for turkey this year. On the other hand, the military supply is down. Last year a million pounds of turkey were served on Thanksgiving to American forces in Japan.

New Tax Bill Coming Up

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. — The shape of things to come after the election is already becoming dimly but grimly visible here. Specifically, the treasury has already had indications that the Republicans and conservative Democrats are likely to get together for the purpose of writing a "popular tax bill." This euphemistic phrase of course means a tax bill which will please the business friends of the men who write it.

Tax reductions are probable although responsible leaders of both parties have repeatedly declared that tax s must not be lowered until the federal finances are in order. In short, the intoxicating thought of the grand Presidential contest in 1948 is already causing the usual attack of electoral fever. The consequences, this time, should be little short of appalling.

In the first place, in the difficult conditions always produced by electoral fever on the Hill, it is vital for representatives of the executive branch to enter discussions of policy with the maximum of authority. But in this case, who ever does the negotiating will represent an administration largely or completely discredited. And the man best equipped to do the job, Under Secretary of the Treasury O. Max Gardner, seems increasingly likely to go to London as ambassador. He will leave a gap which it will be very hard to fill.

Secondly, if the election returns are at all as anticipated, no one supposes that the congressional chieftains will want much advice from anybody. The strengthened Republicans, with their Democratic allies, will take the matter into their own hands. The treasury and other departments of the administration will simply be called upon to furnish data.

House Will Write Own Bill.

The house will write a bill of the sort that will please its uncompromisingly conservative ways and means committee and antediluvian rules committee. Such men as Senator Robert A. Taft and Senator Walter F. George will make the decisions in the senate. Fear of the result is already sharp within the administration. Highly placed officials are even now wondering among themselves whether the President will be forced to interpose a veto. This casts a bright light, incidentally, on the defeatism which reigns in almost all quarters here except in the neighborhood of Postmaster General Robert Hannegan.

If these expectations are correct (and they are significant at this time as the most expert forecasts of the practical results of Republican victory at the polls) the process will by no means end with a muddle over taxes. That will, in fact, be only the beginning.

As budget-balancers, the Republicans and their allies cannot consistently propose tax reductions without advocating lower federal expenditures. Now, some 75 per cent of the federal budget currently represents either debt interest or retirement, or veterans' costs, or the costs of the military establishment. Important economies cannot be affected in the area of the debt charges. They are politically impractical in the area of veterans' costs, which are much more likely to be increased. The remaining 25 per cent of the budget does not give scope for big slashes. That leaves national defense expenditure as the only easy prey for the budget-balancers. A hint of their mood was given by Senator Taft's speech last month in Ohio, in which he first denounced Secretary of State James F. Byrnes for appeasing the Soviet Union, and then denounced the draft and called for lower outlays for defense purposes.

Course Is Indefinite.

When the politicking urge hits senators and representatives, there is no telling where they will end. In this particular case, however, the intense desire to make capital by lowering taxes will certainly lead to a violent and thoughtless assault on the whole national defense system. One of two things can then happen. Either economies will be effected without reference to defense needs, or failure to effect economies will further unbalance the budget and intensify the inflationary danger.

In the former and more probable case, the United States will automatically cease to have a foreign policy. Not only will it become impossible to meet the full commitments abroad which we have made in such areas as Germany, Japan, China and the Mediterranean. The mere fact that we have dismantled our defense establishment will also tend to dissolve the front of international resistance to Soviet expansion which has now formed around the core of American strength. Seeing us abdicate, the other nations acting with us will turn to a policy of "Devil take the hindmost." The Soviets will find that they are suddenly able to play each off against the other. All that James F. Byrnes has been working to stave off will promptly happen, while all that he has been working to build up will fall into ruin.

Once the first step is taken, these processes can be foreseen as the physicists foresee a chain reaction. The first step will not be taken for a while. Yet the probabilities are important at this time as an indication of the kind of constitutional problem that the country is almost certainly going to have to solve in the next two years.

Germans Cheered

By The Associated Press

BREMEN, Germany—Bremen's historic 500-year-old Rathaus once more is the seat of local German government here.

The building, which was used by occupation forces, has been returned by American Military government. The consolidated officers' mess remains in the basement however and some rooms will be used for American social events.

The return of the building procured a marked improvement in the feeling of German people toward our occupation forces," Military government officials reported.

TO Everybody Concerned in That Stri[ke] 1,400 Airplane Pilots:

Gentlemen: Even if it is all over wher[e] get this, I am still scared. There is some[thing] about the very thought of a strike by a[n] pilots that raises gooseflesh. I always [re]member the guy in there with all those instrum[ents] is satisfied. I like to feel that, while the la[dy] whose names my life rests may be thinkin[g] a lot of things, walking out of there is not [one] of them.

• • •

To me the operator of one of those [big] planes is a sort of god with a little Sir Gala[had] a little Tom Edison and a lot of Jimmy Doo[little] thrown in. The idea that he can under any circumstances look like John Lewis or an unru[ly] picket floors me. It takes me right back fro[m the] state of being air-minded to one of being cov[ered] wagon-minded.

• • •

No matter what I worried about up in the I always pictured the pilot as having nothi[ng] take his mind off the altimeters, range fi[nders] and various gauges; and I thought he was busy to think of money, longer weekends, capitalistic system and what was said at the union meeting. Now I am sick enough to s[tay] bed at the discovery that away up there, s[wing] along around a cloud and plotting the right co[urse] to dodge the next mountain peak, a superso[nic] airplane pilot is just a workingman with a [union] card, a letter from a leader and maybe a [con]viction that the boss is a louse.

• • •

I sort of had the notion when I was up [on] feet up there I was where no national media boards, fact finding commissions, union dema[nds] or picket lines could touch me. I felt sure airplane bosses and the pilot were buddies that the bosses would be as frightened as passengers if they knew the skipper were [not] about anything.

• • •

So I hope you have got everything fixed now for keeps, and that it can't happen ag[ain] If it does, please keep it out of the papers, thought of Harry Truman seizing the air[planes] and a lot of Democrats piloting them over N[ew] foundland is awful. Here I have put in fi[fty] years getting air-minded, and now all of a sud[den] I am back where I like bicycling.

Please Be Comfortable

By TRUMAN TWILL

In this great country, which can do anyth[ing] it makes up its mind to do, there will be auditorium some day designed for the comfort customers.

Its architect will bear in mind that custome come in assorted lengths and shapes and w[ill] quit squeezing wide ones into narrow seats, ta[ll] ones into short spaces and stretching short on to fill long spaces.

There will be no geometric seating patte[rn] that look dandy when the auditorium is empt but jam five-foot customers in backs of ad with six-foot hairdo's and rank garlic ea[ters] cheek to jowl with sensitive souls who pale the thought.

Customers will be seated willy-nilly on co[m]fortable chairs of various designs and degrees softness. There will be wide-open spaces b[e]tween chairs for leg-stretchers, late comers a[nd] early leavers. For these last there will be fact, escape hatches spaced evenly about walls, to eliminate the long trudge back up t[he] aisle.

Connected with the hatches will be comfo[rt]able rooms furnished with beds, reading ma[te]rial, beverages of various flavors and potenc[ies] and a system of noise-deadening that w[ill] able the escapee to say what he thinks abo[ut] what he has just seen and heard, without bei[ng] shushed.

These rooms will be for the special use customers who must stay because they [co]me with someone else who is not yet ready to [go]. For customers who are merely restless be[cause] their left leg has conked out there will be ev[en] else quarters where they can revive circul[ation] and still keep track of what they came to s[ee].

There also will be davenports ranged acr[oss] walls, and these will be rented at premium pr[ices] to customers who prefer to recline comfortab[ly] and eat peanuts while pursuing culture, know[l]edge, or entertainment, as the case may be.

This is the nub of the whole improvement project, because all customers soon will [pre]fer davenports at premium prices, and this will [lead] to elimination of all other kinds of seating equi[p]ment in auditoriums. Customers will arrange themselves on continuous overstuffed benches that will be sold by the foot—say 50 cents a foot or $3 for a six-foot man who wants to be [his] length.

There will be fewer people in auditoriu[ms] when this happens, which will be a good [th]ing, but there can be even more money, which is what matters. And the ultimate effect will be to convince millions who now avoid auditoriums that they have been missing something, and this will run up the price.

The comfort of the audience might even make public speeches bearable in time, because if the speaker has nothing to say—which is what most speakers have to say—the customers could doze over and go to sleep. It is too bad this cannot happen in the lifetime of anyone now living, because all of us now are half-dead from neglected auditoriums. But it is something to dream about the next time you spend a couple of cramped uncomfortable hours in one of the things.

TODAY'S YOUTH

Preparing Youth for Future Challenge To U. S. Parents

★ ★ ★

Following is the first of a series of six articles dealing with the problems confronting today's children, which should be of interest to every American parent who hopes for a better world tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

By KATHARINE F. LENROOT
Chief, U. S. Children's Bureau
Written Exclusively for Associated Press Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON—Better Parenthood week this year might very well be a time to consider what is to be required of us in preparing our children for tomorrow's world, that one world into which we have already been catapulted. It is a world in which we do not yet know our way around, let alone being able to guide our children in it.

Our children, however, are going to have to live in that world and before so very long, take part in its direction. They should be prepared, it seems to me, for a life, not an easy one, for they are going to have a pioneering job to do.

Today's youth is coming of age in a time of tremendous change. Politically this era might be likened to that which followed the American Revolution. A generation was born and grew to maturity between the time the war closed and Thomas Jefferson took office as president, or before the democratic philosophy had its first great re-affirmation. The difference between the periods, however, is great. Then there was time and there was not the atomic bomb. There was, though, the same confusion, the same working at cross purposes as they tried to build a nation that we must contend with today as we try to build a structure called the United Nations.

Great Conviction

What saw the people of that time through their difficulties was a great conviction. Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness were held to be inalienable rights of all, not just of some. A sufficient number of people believed those words, and backed up their conviction with their united strength. So believing and so acting, they forged a united nation on that principle.

Our young people are going to need the same kind of conviction about what freedom means. They will need it not solely in terms of their personal freedom, important as that is, nor the national freedom, as dear to us all as that is, but in terms of the fullest possible freedom of one's fellowmen.

With such a conviction will come a sense of social responsibility. It will call for the individual's support of those forces everywhere in the world today that are working toward justice and brotherhood in human affairs.

Planting the Seeds

If, then, we can impart today to our children that abiding conviction of the worth of man, and that sense of responsibility—and if stamina can be built into them to see them through—then we shall have done the best we can to prepare them for tomorrow's world. They will not have an easy time of it, but a hard life can be a very good life indeed if it has a high purpose.

Upon the family rests the greatest part of the responsibility for well-equipping youth for what lies ahead, for it is in the home that the values children live by are molded. It is from the parents and the way in which they meet their own responsibility to the family and to the community that youth learns.

If the parents act with courage and fortitude, if they hold fast to the great and abiding truths that are above the confusion of this postwar world, they will have done what is required of them. Their children, in their turn, will be likely to do the same.

MRS. MARTHA B. HORD DIES AT HOME HERE

Services Here Tuesday for Mother of Eleven.

Mrs. Martha B. Hord, 67, mother of 11 children, died in her home at 766 East Center street at 3:15 p. m. Saturday after an illness of five years.

Born Aug. 20, 1879, in Oxford, Ind., she was a daughter of David and Magdalena Burkepile Rexroth, native of Crawford county. Oct. 7, 1901, she married Oscar J. Hord in Marion. He died Feb. 10, 1943. A resident of Marion 52 years, Mrs. Hord came here from Oxford, Ind. She was a member of the old Likens Chapel church, of the Ladies' Aid society of the church, and of Grand Prairie Grange.

Surviving are the following children, Mrs. Dorothy M. Williams of 784 East Center street, Fenton J. Hord of 249 Bain avenue, Mrs. Eleanor M. Peters of near Marion, Mrs. Elizabeth D. James of 124 West Mark street, Melvin E. Hord of 766 East Center street, David R. Hord of 153 Pennsylvania avenue, Mrs. Bertha R. Stiffler of near Marion, John Hord of 610 Wilson avenue, Walter A. Hord of near Richwood and Mrs. Norma N. Beery of near Richwood, 18 grandchildren, and a sister, Miss Elizabeth Rexroth of 764 East Center street. Another daughter, Clara Mae, died in infancy, and a sister and a brother preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 3 p. m. in the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street by Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of Epworth Methodist church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Home Project Meetings Scheduled in County

Home project meetings will be held in three Marion county communities this week, according to an announcement today by Miss Mary Faye McMillan, Marion county home demonstration agent.

Subject discussed will be sugar savers and desserts, with Miss McMillan leading the discussion in each meeting.

Women of the Kirkpatrick community will meet Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. in the home economics room of the Kirkpatrick school building.

Other meetings are scheduled at the Morral school Thursday at 1:30 p. m. and at the Grand Prairie school Friday at 1:30 p. m.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER E. MATHIOT of 258 Bridgeview drive are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Virginia, to Howard Harding Drew, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Drew. The wedding date, Wednesday, Nov. 27, was announced when the bride-elect's mother entertained with an at home Saturday afternoon. Miss Mathiot was graduated from Harding High school and attended Ohio university. Her fiance, also a graduate from Harding High school, served with the U. S. Marine corps for three years and saw duty in the South Pacific. He is now associated with the Marion county common pleas court.

Mrs. Mathiot received her guests from 3 to 5 o'clock and assisting throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Francis J. Hurst, Mrs. Howard Gurney, Mrs. Dale Tobias, Miss Cora Morgenthaler, Miss Patricia Lawler and Miss Maxine Schlagenhauf.

Guests from out of the city included Mrs. Richard Tremper, Mrs. George L. Edgar, Mrs. P. L. Myer and Miss Isabel Proxine of Portsmouth and Mrs. Richard Caldwell of Cleveland.

MISS VIRGINIA MATHIOT

When a reception honoring the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McCombs of near Wyandot was held Friday evening, Oct. 18, Elder Levi Hile, who officiated at the wedding ceremony in 1921, gave a short talk. He is an uncle of Mrs. McCombs. Luncheon was served from a table centered with a tiered cake decorated in pink and white and crystal candleholders held white tapers. Bouquets of pink and white daisy pompons decorated the rooms. Mrs. McCombs, wearing a corsage of pink and white mums, served, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Amos Hile, and Mrs. Darrel Baker. Relatives and friends were present from Ada, Tiffin, Richwood, Marion, Bucyrus, Morral, Harpster and Nevada.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Seckel of 241 Thew avenue entertained the Euchareteers club Wednesday night in their home in honor of Mr. Seckel's birthday anniversary. Awards in euchre went to Mr. and Mrs. Seckel, and lone hand award, to Carl Matson, while P. C. Kyle and Mrs. Matson were consoled. Assisting in serving was Mrs. Ernest Fast. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McAdams.

Mrs. Gale McDougle entertained the Happy Hours club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. David Roberts on the Sawyer road. A donation was made to the Marion Community fund, and plans for the Christmas dinner were reported on by Mrs. McDougle. Roll call was answered by a favorite poem. High honors in contests went to Miss Dorothea Lust and Mrs. Virginia Green with consolation to Miss Ruth Zulauf and Mrs. Evelyn Kimbel. The guessing box was won by Miss Ruth Kaufman. The next meeting will be held a week earlier Nov. 21, due to Thanksgiving. Mrs. Green will be hostess.

Bruises made from the leaves of yucca, New Mexico's official state flower, were used by prehistoric Pueblo Indians to paint designs on their pottery.

Vows Exchanged in Columbus by Marion Couple

MISS EVON HAMBURG, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Hamburg of Vernon Heights road, and Louis Browarsky of Marion son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Browarsky of Fort Wayne, were united in marriage Sunday at Columbus. Following the ceremony read by Rabbi Samuel Gup of that city, there was a wedding breakfast at Hotel Harding. Yesterday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hamburg entertained with a reception at their home here. Upon their return from a wedding trip the couple will be at home at 215 Ellis place.

The bride received her B. A. degree from Ohio State university and was graduated from the John Powers modeling school in New York City. She is a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority. Mr. Browarsky, who recently was discharged from the armed forces after four years of service overseas, is proprietor of the Baby Shoppe on East Center street.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. William Temple of Cleveland were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Z. R. Murray of Delaware avenue. Recently married, Mrs. Temple is the former Miss Lois Jean Wilson of Cleveland. Mr. Temple is a son of Mrs. Murray and formerly lived in Marion.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Sidenstricker of 193½ East Center street have returned home after spending a week in New York visiting Miss Blanche Davidson of New York City and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Zamarin of Long Island. Miss Davidson and Mrs. Zamarin are sisters of Mr. Sidenstricker.

Weddings

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the wedding Sunday, Oct. 20, of Miss Florella Mae Butterworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Butterworth of 618 North Greenwood street, to Paul E. Bradshaw, pharmacist's mate third class in the U. S. Navy, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Bradshaw of 452 Patterson street. The double ring ceremony was read at 1:45 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. H. V. Falor, pastor of the Oakland Evangelical church. Only the immediate families attended.

For her wedding the bride chose a street length dress in a deep pink shade with which she combined black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of white rosebuds. Miss Florence Rae Butterworth was her sister's only attendant. She wore a postman blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Serving as best man was James Bradshaw, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception followed the ceremony. Centering the table was a decorated wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Following a motor trip through southern Ohio, Kentucky, and northwestern Tennessee, the couple will reside for the present at 245 North Seffner avenue.

Mrs. Bradshaw is a graduate of Harding High school. Pharmacist's Mate Bradshaw served four years in the Atlantic, Mediterranean and Pacific theaters and will receive his discharge in the near future. He has been at home on leave for the last two months.

Mrs. Fuldheim Speaks at 8 P. M. Tuesday

The talk to be given by Mrs. Dorothy Fuldheim of Cleveland to open the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs season Tuesday night at Central Junior High school will be at 8 o'clock the sponsors announce. Doors of the auditorium will open at 7:30 o'clock. As a former years the lecture Tuesday night, and other programs throughout the season, will be open to club members and holders of patron and patroness memberships.

While many persons interested in the series of programs have already purchased membership cards there are some who have not been contacted this season, the sponsors feel. Anyone interested in hearing Mrs. Fuldheim who will speak on "From Moscow to Washington" may purchase a membership card for the lecture and the entire series at the school Tuesday night. Mrs. Frank M. Knapp, patroness chairman, announces. They also may be purchased from members of the various clubs in the federation.

Bishop Sees Holy War Against Communism

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND Oct 28 — Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of New York, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, says "it would appear the Roman Catholic church has declared war on Russia by announcing a worldwide war on Communism."

The Methodist bishop made this observation yesterday before 12,000 Protestants gathered in public hall for reformation day services. He said:

"Protestants are as fundamentally opposed to the philosophy of materialism on which Communism is based and to its methods, particularly as seen in dictatorship and repression, as is the Roman Catholic church.

"But we believe there is a way to face and to solve this difficult question without recourse to war," he added.

OHIO WOMAN'S VALIANT FIGHT WITH POLIO ENDS

Former OWU Beauty Dies Unexpectedly in California.

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 28—Death has ended the valiant struggle by Mrs. Eleanor Hunt of Shaker Heights, O., to recover from poliomyelitis which two years ago left her paralyzed below the neck.

The 25-year-old former Ohio Wesleyan university beauty queen died unexpectedly yesterday in Presbyterian hospital. Her physician, Dr. Harvey E. Billig, attributed the cause to "a cystic degeneration of the brain."

Mother of two small daughters, Mrs. Hunt was flown here April 18 in an army respirator plane. Since then she had undergone several neurosurgy operations performed by Dr. Billig to relieve paralysis of the neck muscles used in breathing.

Surviving are her husband, an advertising executive, two daughters, Peggy 4, and Patricia 2½, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kissner of Delaware, O.; a sister Joan, and a brother, Paul.

Galion Girl Marries Soldier in Kentucky

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 26—Announcement was made here this week of the marriage of Miss Edith Ballett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Ballet of Galion, and Sgt. Frank Parrish, son of Mrs. Glenys Parrish of Galion and Frank Parrish of Toledo.

The couple were married last Sunday morning by Rev. J. T. Lewis at Hopkinsville, Ky. The bridegroom who is stationed at Camp Hood, Texas, is a member of an Army post football team. When the team played at Camp Campbell, Hopkinsville, Ky., Saturday the former Miss Ballet was on hand for the game. She remained there for her wedding Sunday morning, and returned to Galion later in the day. She will remain at the home of her parents while her husband is serving in the U. S. Army.

Both Mr. Parrish and his bride went to school here in 1938 and she in 1943, school he in 193, and she in 1943. She is employed at the F. W. Woolworth company store here.

Before entering army service for the fifth year, Mr. Parrish was employed at the Central Ohio Steel Products company in Galion.

COPELAND IS SECOND IN MOTORCYCLE RACE

Columbus Rider Wins State Title at Waldo.

Sonny Copeland, Marion motorcycle racer, after starting in seventh position in the state championship races at Waldo yesterday afternoon, passed into second place behind Dave Atkinson of Columbus and raced him to a near photo finish. Atkinson becomes the new state champion. Art Hess of Willard was the third place winner.

Approximately 4,000 persons turned out for the events. The winner's purse was $825 and a large trophy. This was a 50-mile 10-lap race, the running time being approximately six minutes. The trophy was awarded by the American Motorcycle association and the races were sponsored by the Triangle Motorcycle club of Marion. There were 36 Ohio riders entered.

In the first novice elimination Black of Dayton was first and Bill Slater of Luna placed second ahead of Dickinson of Akron. Smiley of Dayton became the novice champ, Dickinson finishing second and Slatter posted third place. In the second novice elimination Bellville of Marysville finished first, Smiley finished second, and Keller of Upper Sandusky finished third.

Andrew Liscano of Galion became the amateur champion placing ahead of Al Martin of Kenton and Bobby Hall of Zanesville. Phillips of Mansfield won the first amateur elimination and Al Martin placed first in the second amateur event.

The third event was the first expert elimination and Sonny Copeland finished ahead of Atkinson and Barnes, a cyclist out of Akron.

Otmar Gannee of Akron, former state champion, won first place in the second expert elimination ahead of Bobby Hall of Zanesville and Gilbert of Akron.

The nine events were run first a novice heat, then an amateur heat and then an expert. Most of the races were closely contested and all produced thrills. The weather for the running couldn't have been better the races being run on a fast track.

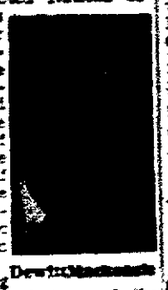
Mackenzie Says India Gives UN Object Lesson

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It has remained for Oriental India to give our bickering world a practical demonstration that even the most bitter quarrels are susceptible of adjustment.

Destiny works by curious and devious means, and one finds it difficult not to see in the association, Modern Hindu trace at New Delhi a striking object lesson for the United Nations assembly as it gets under way. For the greatest immediate service which our assembly could render would be to find a way of bridging the dangerous gulf between the Russian dominated Slavic bloc and the Western Allies.



Dewitt Mackenzie

Through long generations the Hindus and the Moslems have waged their often bloody warfare—at first religious and racial but finally inextricably mixed with politics. Indeed, even as this is being written there has arrived a cable from Calcutta reporting further disorders which have cost many lives during the past week.

Shut up in New Delhi the weekend saw the completion of a coalition cabinet for the new provisional Indian government which is the forerunner of independence. That cabinet comprises both Moslems and Hindus, a circumstance which only a few weeks ago many people held to be an impossibility.

Now of course it would be foolish to assume that everything will be plain sailing from now on or even that this first government won't collapse. That would be placing too much confidence in human nature.

Many Problems To Solve

There are still many problems to be solved and one of them is the burning desire of the Moslems for Pakistan—an independent state of their own, which has provided the main stumbling block in the protracted negotiations. It's safe to assume that Mohamed Ali Jinnah, the brilliant leader of the Moslem league, hasn't abandoned the hope that in some way he may achieve the goal of Pakistan.

However, the all important fact is that at long last Jinnah has compromised on Pakistan, at least temporarily, in order to get the interim government going. And the Hindus — who outnumbered the Moslems three to one—have made concessions to the Moslems in the matter of cabinet positions.

Thus even if a fresh crisis should overtake the new government, the spirit of conciliation displayed has flung a rainbow across the Indian sky. We know now that there is not, and never has been, any truth in the traditional cry that the Hindus and the Moslems were doomed to eternal enmity. Maybe they haven't reached peace yet, but they are on the road.

650 Sheep and Lambs Consigned to Pool

At the Ashley lamb pool held Thursday, 650 sheep and lambs were graded for market. They had a combined weight of 51,750 pounds and were consigned by 25 farmers in the Delaware-Marion county area.

The twenty double blue grade lambs were produced by S. L. Barger of Delaware, C. W. Hilop of Centerburg, Harold Patrick of Centerburg, Howard Heinlen of Delaware, Guy Hildebrand of Edison and C. N. Dilsaver of Ashley.

One hundred and twenty-six lambs grading blue were produced by S. L. Barger of Delaware, John K. Hershey of Ashley, C. W. Hilop of Centerburg, C. R. Porter of Leonardsburg, Harold Patrick of Centerburg, Howard Heinlen of Delaware, A. W. Baker of Waldo, Guy Hildebrand of Edison, Charles Nuckles of Sunbury, W. P. Click of Edison, Henry Rick of Marengo, Wes Bell of Sunbury, Ralph Hemlick of Cardington, Brooks Shade of Lexington, C. N. Dilsaver of Ashley, R. H. Osborne of Marengo, Roy Howison of Centerburg, Mat Hudson of Marengo, Selby Grimes of Mt. Gilead and C. H. Sines of Sunbury.

The single blue grade sale for quality & uniform weight of the day was 21 lambs, sold for $20.25 and yielded at $18. Feeder lambs sold for $16.50 and ewes at $8 cwt.

The next pool sale is Nov. 18 when it is planned to have open house for visitors to buy and share sociability in the three-county area of pools. Exhibits of the many improvement programs will be on hand and a variety of specialties and a basket dinner will be put on for the visitors. The program will be at 1 p. m. in the afternoon.

ROGGE PROMISES TO REVEAL MORE PLOTS

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, Oct. 28—O. John Rogge ousted from the attorney general's department for disclosures of contents of a report he had prepared, said today he would continue to make public the subject matter of the report "because the American people are entitled to know about the Fascist threat to democracy."

"I shall hit—and hit again—at the dangers facing this country from foreign infiltration," he asserted.

The former special assistant attorney general, discharged after a Swarthmore, Pa., address last week, said he will proceed with a speaking tour which will take him through the Pacific coast states this month, into the Midwest and East in November, and the South in December.

In dismissing Rogge Saturday, Attorney General Clark said his assistant had violated justice department rules by quoting sections of the report dealing with Nazi efforts to influence American elections.

Supreme Court Upholds Georgia Election Laws

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—The supreme court today refused to disturb a lower court decision upholding Georgia's county unit voting system.

Under the system, Eugene Talmadge recently won the Democratic nomination for governor, although he trailed James V. Carmichael in popular votes. Carmichael had the support of Gov. Ellis Arnall.

Maritime Pickets To Cease Patrol Today

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Captain A. E. Oliver, co-chairman of the negotiating committee of the Masters, Mates and Pilots association, (AFL) announced this morning that the union's pickets would be withdrawn at 12 noon from New York City piers, where they have patroled since the maritime strike began Oct. 1.

Captain Oliver also announced that masters of ships were being cleared to return aboard ships immediately.

The masters will be followed by men who have signed for voyages and then by the general membership.

OHIO GIRL BURNS TO DEATH

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28—Joan Neiding, 2, suffered fatal burns yesterday as a $20,000 fire raged through a downtown residence, routing two families from their beds. Mrs. Evelyn Neiding, 30, her mother, leaped to safety from a second-floor window, while the father, Herman, 33, and another daughter, Barbara, 5, were carried from the flaming home by firemen.

SHARP INCREASE IN VD RATE REPORTED IN U. S.

25 to 42 Per Cent Boost Recorded by Health Agency.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Sharp increases during the 1945-46 fiscal year in the number of reported new cases of early syphilis and gonorrhea in the nation were announced today by U. S. public health service.

In figures released through the American Social Hygiene association, now engaged in a New York campaign against venereal diseases, it said now cases of early syphilis reported during the 12 months ended June 30, totaled 96,544, with a 42 per cent increase in the number in the last quarter of the year compared with the first quarter.

New cases of gonorrhea totalled 275,662, increasing 25 per cent in the last quarter over the first quarter. Reported cases of early latent syphilis also increased.

Dr. Walter Clarke, executive director of the American Social Hygiene association, declared the increase in early syphilis was "most alarming because this is the stage which is highly infectious."

Churchman Calls For "Christian Economy"

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28—Dr. Mark A. Dawber of New York, executive secretary of the home missions council, called today for a "Christian economy" as a means of achieving world peace.

"The decision whether atomic power is to be for good or evil will depend on our ability to achieve a Christian economy in the modern world," he told opening sessions of the Ohio State Convention of Church School and Religious Education Workers.

About 40 Protestant denominations are represented at the three-day convention sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches, officers reported.

"The competitive capitalistic system is one of the major explanations of the breakdown of the efforts for peace at Paris and Lake success," Dr. Dawber asserted.

Bricker Says New Deal Brought Black Markets

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28—Campaigning in this traditionally Republican stronghold, John W. Bricker, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, said today the "New Deal planners" were responsible for "more law violators" and "illegal black market fortunes" than in any other period of the nation's history.

While Bricker hammered at the New Deal, Thomas J. Herbert, his running mate for governor, said his opponent, Gov. Lausche, was responsible for the veterans' housing shortage.

"Immediate action by the governor and the legislature is required to ease the critical housing shortage," he said.

DENIES GOLD REVALUATION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross replied, "I don't know anything about it," when asked by newsmen today about a report the government might change the $35 per ounce gold valuation. A treasury official also threw cold water on the idea, noting to reporters that Secretary Snyder recently notified the international monetary fund that the United States' value for the dollar is $35 to the gold ounce and that the U. S. sees no reason even to discuss a change. The price has been in effect since 1934. These comments were made in response to queries concerning a broadcast report that gold would be revalued at $52 an ounce.

ARABS GET TRUMAN'S VIEWS ON PALESTINE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—President Truman has sent a message to Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia reiterating his belief that steps should be taken to insure the immediate substantial immigration of refugee Jews into Palestine.

He told the Arab leader that he could not agree with the latter's statement that there was inconsistency in the American position.

Replying to a letter received from Ibn Saud Oct. 15, the President wrote:

"With regard to the possibility envisaged by your majesty that force and violence may be used by Jews in aggressive schemes against the neighboring Arab countries, I can assure you that this government stands opposed to aggression of any kind or to the employment of terrorism for political purposes. I may add, however, that I am convinced that responsible Jewish leaders do not contemplate a policy of aggression against the Arab countries adjacent to Palestine."

NEW YORK MEAT PRICES PLUMMET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 — Meat prices in New York plummeted today with virtually the same momentum as they skyrocketed two weeks ago with decontrol.

Sirloin and porterhouse steak were selling at 55 cents a pound compared with 95 cents one week ago at the same market, and butchers said they expected a "flood of beef" this week, driving prices down even more.

The long lines of shoppers were gone. Careful housewives, eyeing the price tags, were buying only what they actually needed. One butcher, whose comment was typical of the situation, said:

"There's plenty of meat. What we need now are customers!"

New Farm Credits Plan Goes Into Effect Nov. 1

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Oct. 28—The federally-sponsored farmers' home administration, setting up a new system of agricultural credits, goes into effect on Nov. 1, Dillard B. Lasseter, who will head the new agency, said today.

Farm credits will be made available for the first time on the same terms as urban credits, he said.

Thank-Offering Boxes Gathered by Society

The annual gathering of thank-offering boxes was held when the Women's Missionary society of the Emanuel Lutheran church met Friday afternoon at the church. Mrs. L. Sims conducted the thank offering program.

Mrs. Curtis Laubner Sr. was elected to the office of secretary to fill the position left by the resignation of Mrs. Carl Hoffman. Mrs. E. H. Cooper will be assistant secretary. A report of the North Central group convention held Oct. 15 at Willard, O., was given by Mrs. Stuart Shipman. Mrs. Robert Baughman and Mrs. David Rengert, guests, were welcomed as new members. Vocal solos were presented by Mrs. G. E. Turner, Mrs. Laubner and Mrs. C. McClaskey, accompanied by Mrs. William Ackerman.

Guests were Mrs. H. Foltz, Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. B. Seiter. A potluck supper was served following the meeting by the hostesses, Mrs. Matilda Sinning, Mrs. George Shoemaker, Mrs. Louise Sims, Mrs. Opal Simmons, Mrs. E. E. Sietvold and Mrs. J. W. Snyder.

Democrats, GOP Line Up Arguments in Campaign's Close

By The Associated Press

The final week of campaigning for the Nov. 5 general elections got under way today with Republicans pointing an accusing finger at the administration's war housing record and Democrats taking issue with polls forecasting GOP gains on Capitol Hill.

The Republican national committee published what Senator Brewster of Maine called a "long suppressed" report of the senate war investigating committee, declaring among other things that the administration "failed miserably" in its wartime housing operations.

Brewster, a member of the committee, said in an accompanying statement that the report was drafted while President Truman was chairman of the group and later was brought up to date under the chairmanship of Senator Mead, now the Democratic nominee for governor of New York. It was dated April 6, 1945.

In New York Mead told newsmen "I will be very happy to debate housing—federal and state, permanent and temporary—with Thomas E. Dewey and I will gladly start that debate tomorrow morning."

Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, took a poke at public opinion polls in a statement contending that "we have prima facie evidence that some juggling of the figures already have taken place to create a more hopeful picture for the Republicans."

VISITATION WEEK OPENS IN SCHOOLS

Annual visitation week for the Marion city schools is being observed throughout this week with parents and friends invited to visit the schools in order to observe the pupils and teachers at work during the typical school day.

In the Junior High schools and at Harding High school, members of the Girl Reserves and other various clubs in the schools will welcome and register the visitors.

School visitation week has been observed over the United States for a number of years, and it is a real opportunity for anyone interested in seeing the schools at work to do so at this time.

speak Tuesday or Wednesday.

The British delegation, it was learned meanwhile, is committed to try to swing the power of the assembly behind efforts to speed up the atomic energy commission's work on atomic controls, and arrival by the weekend of Foreign Minister Bevin may add impetus to this undertaking. Bevin sailed from Southampton, Eng., yesterday.

Byrnes Also Due

Secretary of State Byrnes also is due next weekend for the foreign ministers conference opening a week from today to wind up the eastern European peace treaties. Diplomatic informants speculated that Byrnes and Bevin would get together quickly on strategy for countering a Russian proposal to the UN assembly that they be required to report on their troops in foreign countries.

Foreign Minister Molotov is already here and, with other members of the Soviet delegation, is the center of heated speculation over whether Russia may be developing a more "conciliatory" or "cooperative" attitude toward working with the Western powers on grave international issues.

Molotov's very presence here, ahead of the other great power ministers, is intepreted by some UN informants as a possible indication of a new attitude. Moreover, three days ago in a committee meeting, Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky unexpectedly withdrew certain Russian proposals when they met stiff majority opposition.

Head Church Delegation

Topping off this trend of events, Vishinsky and Ambassador Nicolai V. Novikov yesterday headed a five-man Russian group which participated along with other UN delegates in a solemn pontifical high mass in Roman Catholic St. Patrick's cathedral on Fifth avenue.

The Soviet and all other delegations had been invited to the mass "to invoke divine guidance upon the deliberations of the general assembly" several days ago, in the name of Cardinal Spellman.

Fur Store Gains Pelt By Coyote's Curiosity

By The Associated Press

MITCHELL, S. Dak., Oct. 28—The lure of the city and—of all places a fur store—brought disaster to a coyote that strayed from his rural haunts.

When discovered, the animal was jumping excitedly at a Mitchell store window in which fur coats were displayed.

A bullet from policeman Art Newman's pistol made one more fur available for the display.

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR FORUM SERIES

Noted Correspondent To Talk Here Nov. 3.

Final arrangements for the Marion Chamber of Commerce Sunday Afternoon Forum series, which opens Nov. 3 with an address by Louis P. Lochner, Associated Press correspondent recently returned from Germany, were announced today by Chamber officials.

The forums will be held at Edison Junior High school auditorium and will start at 2:30 p. m. Doors will open at 2 p. m. and there will be no reserved seats.

Dean Drake, student at Edison Junior High school, will play several piano selections starting at 2:15. Paul Hunt will act as moderator and following Mr. Lochner's address there will be a 15-minute question period. Cards will be passed to the audience before the question period so that persons may phrase their questions during the program.

The policy committee of the forum has decided no single admission tickets will be sold. There have been requests for such tickets, the committee said, but due to the varied program offered by the four speakers, it was decided only season tickets would be sold.

A few tickets still are available. They may be purchased at the Hotel Harding cigar stand, the Prospect Monitor office at Prospect, the Campbell National bank of LaRue or at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Luther League Has Tri-County Session

Approximately 200 attended a Tri-county Luther League federation meeting at Emanuel Lutheran church Sunday afternoon and evening. A special speaker, a play by the host church, a moving picture, and dinner preceding the evening service, served by the Young People's Missionary society of the host church, marked the meeting.

In the afternoon those who took part were Richard Rhoads of Marion, Rev. N. C. Schellhase of the Marion rural Lutheran parish, James Fogle, president of the host league, Charles David Mayers of the rural St. Paul church, president of the federation, Lloyd Mautz of Marion, Rev. Karl Diemer of St. John church, Windfall, Cardington parish, and Rev. Paul Gerlach of New Washington who spoke on "Advance With Christ for Christ."

At the evening session a play, "Billy's First Date," was presented by Bruce Bradley, James Fogle, Joan Anderson, Patty Roby, Gladys Erow, Mary Johnson, Maurice Kaelber, Elizabeth Leeper, and Joyce Snyder, assisted by Dorothy Rhoads. Billie Ann Baldauf was announcer for the entertainment. A moving picture, "The Blind Beggar of Jerusalem," was shown. Richard Indoe operated the film machine. The Choral union, composed of 60 members of various leagues represented, sang "My God and I," directed by L. G. Jones of the Marion public school music department. Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of the host church, pronounced benediction.

Truman and Canadian Chief To Meet Today

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—President Truman and Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada arranged a mid-afternoon conference at the White House today, their first in a year.

There was no advance hint of the reasons behind the meeting, but dispatches from Ottawa said plans for joint defense of the Arctic must be among the discussion topics.

Lausche Says State FEPC Bill Blocked

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28 — Gov. Lausche said yesterday that in 1945 the legislature blocked efforts he made to establish a state fair employment practices commission.

"I tried to get an FEPC for Ohio in 1945," Lausche, who is a candidate for reelection, told the St. James A. M. E. church literary forum.

"When the bill, one in which I had expressed my complete interest and support, was introduced it was referred to committee and there it died."

PAPER STRIKE ENDS

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 28—Striking CIO United Paper Workers resumed operations today at the Hinde and Dauch Paper Co. after a three-month strike of 315 unionists was settled by acceptance of a company-offered wage increase.

Egg Case Declared Scrambled Mess

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Heard in Brooklyn-Queens night court when four men were arraigned on a charge they smashed 3,600 eggs during a fight in a butter and egg store:

A magistrate—"This is certainly a scrambled mess."

A defense attorney—"That's no yolk."

Another attorney—"It's the biggest omelett in Brooklyn's history."

Pending another hearing Tuesday the four were paroled.

LONDON GEM THIEVES MAKE 2 MORE HAULS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 28—Gem and fur thieves, striking again in London, looted two homes of some $20,000 in valuables over the weekend.

Adelaide Hall, American-born singer, was robbed of an ermine coat and cape, a silver fox fur and $12,000 worth of jewelry by burglars who jimmied open her front door while she and her husband dined with a neighbor last night.

David Lowe, British customs official, lost $3,000 in jewels to thieves who apparently climbed through his kitchen window Saturday night while he and his wife were out to dinner.

HOUSE DEMANDS AFL SUPPLY INFORMATION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — The house campaign expenditures committee called on four AFL unions today to spell out the details of their political activities or face contempt proceedings.

Officials of the American Federation of Musicians, the Teamsters Union, the United International Union of Laundry Workers and the United Garment Workers were summoned to appear at 9:30 a. m. and tell why they declined to answer a committee questionnaire.

Approximately 250 other groups have replied to the questionnaire, but the four AFL affiliates contended the request was unreasonable and beyond the scope of the committee's authority.

COMMISSION TO MEET

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28—State Sen. Roscoe H. Walcutt, chairman of the Ohio post-war program commission, announced today the bi-ennial meeting of the commission would be held in the senate chambers Nov. 7 and 8. The commission is expected to take final action on reports of its 13 committees, with the reports serving as a basis for legislation to be presented to the next general assembly.

GARBAGE HAULED BY NEW ORLEANS MAYOR

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 28—Volunteer citizens, donning old clothes and cotton gloves, mounted garbage trucks under police protection here today and collected a five-day accumulation of rubbish in a strike of 300 garbage collectors.

Participating were Tulane university students, business men, civic club members and others. There was no disturbance as the morning collection got under way.

Mayor Delesseps S. Morrison and Property Commissioner Theo O. Hotard, who fired the striking collectors Saturday, donned fatigue uniforms and supervised the job.

They declared that the workers, engaged in a dispute over extra pay, had quit their jobs.

TRADE INCREASE SEEN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—Director General Sir John Orr of the United Nations food and agriculture organization said today his proposed world board to stabilize prices and supplies of food would increase trade. Addressing a preparatory commission of 16 nations meeting to draft a long-range international food program, Sir John said expansion in output for the masses is necessary if civilization is to survive.

CHINESE LAUNCH ATTACK

By The Associated Press

PEIPING, Oct. 28—Wily Gen. Tu Li-ming scored one of the biggest surprises of the civil war today by launching a two-pronged offensive by Chinese government troops against Dairen, the chief port of Manchuria, in a move to control the entire south Manchurian coast and cut off the Chinese communists from support by sea.

Hunger Without Appetite

Most people do not distinguish between appetite and hunger And yet the two are different, even while seeming much the same

Appetite might be defined as the attitude toward food, the relish with which it is approached and enjoyed As such, it is largely a mental reaction, though stimulated by the physical senses of smell and taste Appetite increases at the smell or taste of food which is liked, diminishes or disappears altogether in the face of distasteful sights or smells.

Hunger, on the other hand, is a purely physical thing, and is due to contractions of the stomach While the feeling of being in good appetite is nearly always pleasant, hunger may be accompanied by many unpleasant sensations—restlessness irritability and headache

According to Dr Jacob Meyer and his co-workers of Chicago, hunger contractions may sometimes be present without causing any feeling of hunger or arousing any appetite for food. This is especially true of those whose loss of appetitite is due to mental depression Where organic disease is at the root of the trouble, Dr Meyer found that the normal hunger contractions of the stomach were absent along with the usual hunger sensations which stimulate the desire for food.

Dr Meyer found that when mentally depressed patients were treated with a drug known as amphetamine sulfate, the appetite was improved

He thinks that this drug acts by increasing the mental activity and thus aiding in the perception of hunger

There are other methods of treatment which are employed in the treatment of anorexia, or poor appetite What is known as psychotherapy, or mental treatment is often of value In many instances the patient is beset by worry and anxiety which if relieved to some extent allows the appetite to return

Vitamin preparations are also useful, particularly vitamin B-complex In treating poor appetite such preparations should be employed However, there have been many patients with poor appetite who have been cured without the utilization of any vitamins

Poor appetite may be produced by fever, prolonged illness, nervous disorders and various types of cancer. Of course, when the appetite is lost, there is need for a careful study by a physician in order to determine the exact cause In some cases, treatment will consist only in getting rid of the underlying disorder

The most difficult cases to cure are those in which the poor appetite is due to psychic or mental upsets. Often in such cases it is necessary for the patient to be in a hospital for a period of time However, in any instance, when the cause is found the most effective treatment may be carried out.

Surgeons in the 18th and 19th Centuries sometimes intoxicated their patients with alcohol or opium as anesthesia.

CABBIES TAKE 7 TO 0 WHIPPING FROM DAYTON ROCKETS

Locals Miss Two Scoring Trys As Visitors Push One TD Over

By GEORGE ROEST

In a tightly contested game, the Dayton Rockets downed the Shifty Cab A. C.'s 7 to 0 at the Harding stadium Saturday night.

After the Cabbies had penetrated to the six in the second quarter and the four in third quarter, the Rockets' series of plays which culminated in the score was set up when Shock intercepted Simmons' pass on the Marion 32.

Neither in the third quarter. On the last play of the final period Rado, Dayton football player with 20 years experience and Dayton coach, tossed a pass to Penesis deep in the end zone from seven yards out.

Statistics

	Marion	Dayton
Yards gained rushing	88	77
Yards lost rushing	40	20
Yards gained passing	20	10
Passes rushing	4	4
Total first downs	4	4

Lowry dropkicked for the point.

4 First Downs Each

The contest was fought basically defensively, neither team piling up much yardage and both scoring only four first downs. Although the Cabbies piled up 88 yards rushing against 77 for Dayton their losses from scrimmage cut their net gain to 48 yards against 57 for the Rockets. In the air Dayton gained 20 yards while Marion gained 10.

Both teams were favored by having a good punter. Rhul for the Cabbies and Miller for Dayton. As the contest waxed between the goal lines both were forced on to boot their opponents out of the hole. Marion was forced to punt six times gaining an average of 40 yards per punt while Dayton punted seven times for an average of 37 yards.

Harvey kicked off to Shock for 12 yards runback and Dayton was forced to punt from the 42. Starting on their 25 the Cabbies got to the 39 before Shock intercepted on the Dayton 47 and ran to the Marion 47. A punting exchange featured the remainder of the quarter.

The second quarter started with Marion on their own 35. Ruhl punted on the second play to Lowry on the Dayton 27 for a 19 yard run back. Rado picked up nothing and Shock rolled up a loss of 15 yards to the Dayton 42. After picking up six more yards Miller punted to Williams on the 15 for a run back to the 31. Belknap picked up five. Williams got two and Higgins lost it. Ruhl punted to the Dayton 34 where Lowry attempted a pass from the 41 which was intercepted by Belknap on the Dayton 45 and before being hit he lateraled to Williams who went to the 25.

Simmion to Richardson was good to the 18 and a penalty put the ball back on the 23. Williams picked up nine yards and a first down on the 14. Dayton was penalized to the eight and the Cabbies were able to pick up only two more yards before giving the ball to Dayton. The half ended after Rado had lost three.

Forced to Punt

After receiving the kickoff Marion was forced to punt to the Rockets who put the ball in play on their 25. Miller fumbled the pass from center and Roseberry recovered on the Dayton 16. Benson got to the five. Harvey Belknap and Harvey again were able to get only one yard and Rado intercepted on the goal line getting 14 yards out before being downed.

Miller punted from the 15 to Calfagno on the Marion 36. A bad pass from center was recovered for a 19 yard loss by Williams who was hurt on the play and became the only man to be taken out because of an injury. He later reentered the Marion line up.

Pass Intercepted

Shock intercepted Simmon's pass on the Marion 32. Miller picked up seven, Shock got to the 20. Miller was downed by Strobel two yards back of the scrimmage line. Lowery pass to Miller in the left flat for nine yards and the quarter ended with Dayton on the Marion seven. On third down Rado passed to Penesis for the score. Lowery converted.

The remainder of the contest saw the teams see-sawing around midfield, Simmon's 19 yards gain the longest reeled off. Dayton ran their last series of plays from punt formation, Marion gaining the ball on their own 41. Richardson on an end around made nine yards and Simmon's pass was intercepted on the Dayton 33 as the game ended.

Lineups:

Marion—0		Dayton—7

NATIONAL PRO GRID CHASE TIGTHENS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, OOct. 28—Races in the two divisions of the National Football league were tightened considerably today as a result of Steve Owen's New York Giants downing the previously unbeaten Chicago Bears 14-0 at the Polo Grounds.

That victory yesterday elevated the Giants to Eastern division leadership as the Philadelphia Eagles came from behind to beat the Redskins at Washington 28-24 and push them down to second place.

Despite their loss, the Bears remained atop the Western division since the Chicago Cardinals trounced the champion Los Angeles Rams 34-10 in the Windy City and thus prevented the Rams moving into a first place deadlock with the Bears. The Green Bay Packers replaced the Rams as runners-up by scoring a hard-fought 10-7 win over the tail-end Detroit Lions at Milwaukee.

More than 62,000 fans watched Frank Filchock and Frank Leibel lead the Giants to victory. Leibel intercepted a Sid Luckman pass on the Bear 47 in the second period, and four minutes later the end from Norwich college snared a Filchock aerial in the end zone. Early in the third period, Filchock faded back to pass but was unable to find a receiver, so the former understudy of Washington's Slinging Sammy Baugh dashed 16 yards for the second touchdown.

The Bears out-statistic'ked the Giants, and Luckman's passing spearheaded the Bruins deep into Giant territory six times, but on each occasion Owen's men held.

It was the first meeting between the two old rivals since 1943 and the Giants' initial win over the Bears since 1939.

BROWN HEAPS PRAISE ON SAN FRANCISCO

Gives Full Credit for 34-20 Thumping Handed His Team.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 28—Coach Paul Brown gave the San Francisco 49ers and Frankie Albert in particular full credit today for concocting a brand of football that struck gold and dropped his Cleveland Browns from the unbeaten ranks.

"They outplayed us and we had it coming to us," the All-America coach said, adding: "and that fellow Albert is one very tricky guy."

It was Frankie Albert, 170-pound quarterback, who played the major role in the 34 to 20 victory yesterday over the Browns, previously undefeated in eight All-America conference games.

Tossing left-handed with a whip-like motion, the former Stanford whiz threw three touchdown passes and completed a series of heaves that led up to the fourth in the match played before 70,386 surprised fans. He made 14 of 21 passes for 180 yards, two of the touchdown throws going to end Alyn Beals and the other to Don Durden.

To complete their scoring, the 49ers called on Joe Vetrano, formerly of Mississippi Southern, for two field goals, one from the 22 after three minutes of play and the other from the 18 just before the half ended.

The victory gave the Californians five wins and kept them in the running for the conference's Western division leadership now held by the Browns.

Even golden-toed Lou Groza, league-leading scorer with 46 points, wasn't able to help the Browns. After Don Greenwood made Cleveland's first touchdown with a three-yard plunge in the second period, Groza tried for the point, but a bad pass gave him no chance to boot the ball and he suffered a back injury in trying to run the ball over.

Groza was kept on the sidelines during the remainder of the game, but because he did not actually kick the ball, his string of 22 successful placekicks remained unbroken.

In a futile last period gesture, the Browns twice crossed the 49ers' goal on All-America Otto Graham's passes. He tossed 28 yards to Dante Lavelli and 18 yards to Mac Speedie for the closing period markers.

Statistically, the Clevelanders almost matched the California team, the 49ers making 16 first downs to 15 for Cleveland and the Browns gaining 338 yards to 357 for San Francisco.

All-America Conference Loses Last Unbeaten 11

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 — The cloak of invincibility has been stripped from the Cleveland Browns, leaving the All-America conference without an unbeaten team for the first time in its two-month career.

Paul Brown's Cleveland club remains a cinch to cop the Western division title unless it falls apart at the seams but it no longer rates as a superman organization. The Ohioans lost, 34 to 20, to San Francisco's 49ers yesterday.

Still two full games behind the Browns with six to go, the 49ers' cause is anything but bright.

Spec Sanders hit his peak with a three-touchdown spree for New York that subdued the Los Angeles Dons 31-17 and strengthened the Yanks' Eastern division lead. Only a complete collapse by Ray Flaherty's eleven can prevent a Yankee-Brown playoff in December.

It was a day of records in the new circuit, Sanders' 103-yard gallop on a kick-off return yesterday being the longest by any player and Buffalo's 49-17 rout of the Chicago Rockets establishing a new scoring high.

The Bisons waited until their last home appearance before putting on their best show of the season, passing the 44-point total achieved by Cleveland against Miami.

WINS AUTO CHAMPIONSHIP

By The Associated Press

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa., Oct. 28—Bill Holland, Bridgeport, Conn., auto racer, held the 50-lap National Championship Trophy today. A crowd of 36,726 fans, one of the largest of the season, saw Holland roar across the finish line of the half-mile Williams Grove speedway yesterday a half a lap ahead of Joie Chitwood, Reading, Pa., who held the lead in the early laps. Holland's time was 26:06.21.

Army and Notre Dame Roll On As Nation's Leading Elevens

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 — Army and Notre Dame, still immune to the "upset epidemic" which has taken its weekly toll with deadly regularity, led the parade today as the college football campaign headed into its final, and usually fatal month.

The proud Cadets and Fighting Irish still were riding high after their one-sided victories over Duke and Iowa respectively. And together with UCLA, Pennsylvania, Georgia and Harvard, they remained the only undefeated, untied major elevens.

Army made it 24 straight with a 19-0 win over a stubborn Duke team; Notre Dame cracked its Iowa jinx by blasting the Hawkeyes 41-6; powerful Penn rolled over Navy 32-19; UCLA's Bruins moved a step nearer to the Rose Bowl with a 33-7 romp over Santa Clara; Georgia pulverized Furman 70-7 and Harvard squeezed by Holy Cross 13-6.

Three Fall by Wayside

Three teams — Texas, Tennessee and North Carolina State—boasting untarnished records up to last Saturday, fell by the wayside .... Northwestern, Oregon and North Carolina U., each tied once, remained unbeaten.

Unless they are bitten by the upset bug next week, which would be a major calamity, Army and Notre Dame will present spotless slates when they meet head-on in their epic clash at the Yankee Stadium Nov. 9. Each enjoys a comparative breather next Saturday, the West Pointers tuning up with twice-beaten West Virginia and the Ramblers engaging the below-standard Navy Midshipmen, who have dropped four in a row since their opening game triumph. Army has won six games and Notre Dame four.

The pigskin spotlight next week will be centered on the south where the Georgia Bulldogs take on Alabama. The Crimson Tide, Rose Bowl champions, bounding back from an unexpected defeat by Tennessee with a 21-7 win over Kentucky last Saturday, will provide the sternest test yet encountered by Georgia, which has knocked off five foes in a row.

Cincinnati at Tulsa

In the southwest, Rice and Texas A. and M., tied for the conference lead, take on Texas Tech and Arkansas, respectively, in a pair of games that may scramble the standings.

Little Cincinnati, the David of the Football Goliaths, seeks its fifth win in six games at the expense of the highly favored Tulsa Golden Hurricanes.

The Big Nine dominates the midwestern section, Illinois, aiming at the conference championship after a dismal start, takes on Iowa. Michigan attempts to return to the win column against Minnesota. Ohio State, finally looking like the powerful team it had been cracked up to be, meets Northwestern, with only a tie to mar its otherwise spotless five-game record, and Wisconsin plays Purdue. Indiana clashes with Pittsburgh in an intersectional game.

Unbeaten Penn tackles Princeton in an Ivy league game in the east, and Harvard hopes to remain in the select class by knocking off stubborn Rutgers.

The far west presents three important games, headed by the UCLA - St. Mary's tussle Friday night. On Saturday, Southern California meets Oregon and Stanford tackles Oregon State.

Northwestern remained unmeaten by trouncing College of the Pacific 26-13; Oregon beat Idaho by the same score, and North Carolina whipped Florida 40-19.

Galion Semi-Pros Trip Canton Bulldogs 6-0

GALION, Oct. 28—Playing an even game, the Galion Vets semi-pro football team took advantage of a fumble by the Canton Bulldogs, here, Sunday afternoon at Heise park, to score a touchdown and win by the score of 6-0.

In the first quarter, after Norcia, Canton fullback, fumbled on the first play, Galion recovered on the 20-yard line for Ernst to make a touchdown. He went over for the score from the ½-yard line.

BIG NINE TITLE RACE PAST HALFWAY MARK

Illinois, Northwestern Have Inside Track to Date.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 28—The Western conference title chase has passed the halfway mark with Northwestern and Illinois emerging as leading candidates for the championship, a position which could quickly change, however, after this Saturday's rugged schedule of four Big Nine games.

Northwestern, which meets Illinois in its closing game of the season—the week after tangling with Notre Dame—takes on unpredictable Ohio State at Evanston Saturday while the Illini travel to Iowa.

Also rating title consideration were Michigan (2-1-1), Iowa (2-1-0) and Ohio State (1-1-1).

Iowa, which belted 41-6 by the Irish last Saturday in addition to Illinois must face Wisconsin and Minnesota before closing its campaign. Ohio State, pasting a 39-9 defeat on Minnesota, has lost to Wisconsin and tied with Purdue. After Northwestern, the Bucks meet Illinois and Michigan.

Indiana as well as Illinois will stand in the way of Northwestern if the Wildcats can get around Ohio State Saturday. And Illinois must tangle with Ohio State before meeting Northwestern.

Michigan, after temporarily being set back in the race by bowing to Illinois 13-9, travel to Minnesota in the Little Brown Jug series Saturday, and after that date they must meet Wisconsin and Ohio State before finishing their conference season.

In the fourth Big Nine engagement Saturday, twice beaten Wisconsin goes to Purdue, which won its second game of the season by edging Pitt 10-8 while the Badgers had an open date.

Indiana, with a 27-7 victory over Nebraska, continues against non-conference opposition by entertaining Pitt. Other games Saturday send undefeated Notre Dame to Baltimore to face Navy, Marquette to Detroit and Michigan State to Kentucky.

HERMAN KEISER WINS RICHMOND GOLF OPEN

By The Associated Press

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 28—Herman Keiser of Akron, O., the newest star in the golfing skies, had $2,000 in prize money and the Richmond Open title today, and the satisfaction of beating a golf course which took the big out of big time golfers a year ago.

He toured the 6,354-yard Hermitage Country club course in 67, five under par, in the final round yesterday for a 72-hole total of 278—10 strokes better than par. Club officials raised par by a stroke from last year's 71, but Keiser's score still would have given him a six-stroke margin.

Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., won $1,400 second money with a 282; Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles won $1,000 third money with 283; Frank Stranahan, the Toledo amateur finished fourth at 284, and Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., with 287, took fourth money of $800.

Keiser, winner of the Augusta Masters and the Knoxville Open, reminded some 7,000 spectators that last year when Hogan's 280 won, his own score of "something like 308 or 309" was completely out of the money.

Keiser's final round was the best of the tournament by a stroke, and included five birdies and 13 pars.

Baldwin-Wallace Remains Ohio's Only Unbeaten 11

By The Associated Press

Defiance dropped from the select list of unbeaten, untied collegiate football elevens over the week-end, leaving Ohio with only one unconquered team today.

The twice-tied Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets emerged as the only undefeated squad, hanging a 21-12 defeat on Kent State for B-W's third victory against deadlocks with Ohio Wesleyan (0-0) and Western Reserve (13-13).

Defiance, the last of 36 Buckeye teams to fall from the "perfect" circle, bowed 20-7 to Lawrence Tech of Detroit for the Ohioans' first loss in four starts.

Two other Ohio squads—Mount Union and Western Reserve—also tasted defeat for the first time. Once-tied Mount Union was upset, 13 to 0, as Case turned in its first win in five outings, and Western Reserve took a 20-6 thumping from Dayton's Flyers, leaving Reserve with a record of two wins, one loss and two ties.

Prestige Goes Up

Despite Defiance's defeat, Buckeye gridders came through the weekend warfare with their pigskin prestige on the national front enhanced considerably, as seven other teams turned in victories over out-of-state foes. Two others lost to the outsiders.

That gave Ohio elevens a record of 33 wins, 19 defeats and three ties in inter-state clashes this season.

Ohio State and Cincinnati gave Buckeye stock its biggest boosts, each chalking up a startling victory.

The Bucks of Ohio State, sparked by sub halfback Bob Brugge, smothered Minnesota, 39 to 9, for their first Western Conference triumph.

Brugge electrified the crowd of 76,611—Ohio's biggest this year—by scoring two touchdowns and passing for a third in a second-quarter uprising that turned the back-and-forth battle into a rout for the Bucks.

Back in Form

A star on Ohio's unbeaten-untied 1944 eleven but relegated to second string this year by injuries, Brugge accounted for 178 of the 358 yards the Bucks gained against the Gophers. He made 106 in the 12 times he carried the ball and completed two of three forward passes for 72 yards more.

Cincinnati's Bearcats upset highly-rated Michigan State, 18 to 7, for their fifth victory of the season against one loss—that to powerful Kentucky.

Miami's Redskins, beaten only by Purdue, won their fifth straight by downing Ohio University, 23-14, on a last-quarter rally. The Redskins tallied two touchdowns and a field goal in the final stanza to hand the Bobcats their first homecoming defeat in 19 years.

Other teams registering victories in inter-state clashes were: Ohio Wesleyan, 46-7, over DePauw of Indiana; Youngstown, 20-6, over Lebanon Valley, Pa.; Xavier, 26-0, over Arkansas State; Bowling Green, 13-7, over Canisius of New York, and Findlay, 13-0, over Adrian of Michigan.

2 Drop Decisions

Dropping decisions to the outsiders were Wilberforce and John Carroll. Tennessee State humbled Wilberforce, 25 to 7, while John Carroll lost a Sunday contest to Niagara in New York, 14 to 6.

In other Saturday games, Toledo swamped Akron, 33 to 13; Muskingum eked out a touchdown in the final minute of each half to tie Wooster 12-12; Oberlin edged Denison, 19 to 12; Ohio Northern ran wild for seven touchdowns and a 48-0 conquest of Bluffton; Hiram broke a 6-6 halftime tie and dumped Ashland 26-12; Heidelberg upset Wittenberg, 13 to 6, and Cedarville finished a 20-7 winner over Xavier's "B" squad.

Marion Business Women's Club Made Part of National Group

District and State Officers Here for Formal Charter Presentation Ceremony.

In a ceremony both colorful and outstanding in point of significance for members of the Marion Business and Professional Women's club, their place in the community, in the state and in the national federation, the local organization's charter was presented Saturday night. The event was held in the Hotel Harding ballroom, and guests from throughout the state, and presidents of Marion service clubs were present.

The Marion club was admitted recently into the national B and P. W. club federation. Miss Mary K. Miley is president of the newly chartered organization.

Dinner preceded the ceremonies, with 70 persons seated at tables decorated with bittersweet and white candles to which sprigs of the plant were tied. Small corsages and boutonnieres of the bittersweet, tied with ribbon, were favors. Miss Lois Jean Murray headed the decorating committee assisted by Miss Evelyn Hazen, and Mrs. Lucile Cunningham. Miss LaVern Lash and Mrs. Fay Vestal served as reception committee. The finance committee included Mrs. Ruth Kersey and Miss Dora Leib.

District Head Presides

Presiding for presentation of the charter was Mrs. Peg Martin of Toledo, director of B and P. W. District No. 1, of which Marion is a part. Miss Freda Smithberger of Loram, state membership chairman, made the presentation and acceptance of the charter on behalf of the Marion club was by Miss Miley. A decorated gavel was presented Miss Miley by the president of the Toledo club which was active in bringing the Marion Business Women's club into the national B and P. W. federation. Miss Minnie Laudon of Mansfield state B and P. W. scholarship chairman spoke on the scholarship work and other state and district officers spoke briefly. Miss Frieda Taylor of Toledo led reading of the collect at the start of the dinner. Seated at the speakers' table also was Mrs. Lucille Beaver, past president of the Marion Business Women's club.

Present were representatives of four Marion service clubs. Henry Mickley, president of Rotary, E. M. Compton, president of Y's Men, E. L. Cleveland, president-elect of Kiwanis, and Miss Ruth Kramer, president of Altrusa club. Each congratulated and welcomed the new club into the circle of service clubs of Marion. Special music was by Miss Rosaline Manzo, pianist.

Pageant Enacted

An emblem pageant was presented by a group from the Toledo club dressed in white-draped Grecian costumes and gold laurel leaf crowns, each carrying a symbol of the National Federation of B and P. W. club emblem. They were representations of the torch symbol of light, wisdom, principle and leadership; wand winged staff of Mercury herald of a new day for women ship of commerce typifying the entrance of women into business and expansion of opportunities; scroll of achievement, "Begun in 1919 and still unrolling," and Nike, Winged Victory of Samothrace symbol of strength, progress, freedom, triumph, "facing squarely the winds and waves of prejudice and all other limitations."

As each was presented, the carrier stepped inside a large upright golden circle arranged against a background of shining white drapery. Taking part were Florence Karpp, Lorene Curdes, Virginia Banach, Margaret Molnar, Clara Bordner and Ethel Shaw.

In Guest List

Other guests present were Winifred Poppen, president of the Toledo club, Ruth Maxon, Beatrice Darrah, Leanore Morrison, Ila VanVranken, Lois Brickelhaupt, Mabel Dixon, Alice Flint, Freda Lyons, Fern Hart, Bess Evans and Betty Curdes, all of Toledo; Mary Quinn, president of the Columbus club, Kathaleen Moore, Lucille Helm and Nell Flautt, all of Columbus; Urith M. Funston and Marie Weil of Mansfield; Martha Hiegel, Erma Bair, Edith Horseman, Killie Nichols and Mabel Wise, all of Findlay, Hallie Broadhurst, Ethel Rayne, Melba Iholts, Dora Wells and Reba Livingston, all of Lima; Helen Thomas of New Philadelphia; Constance Keller, Thelma Jacobs, Mary Shirk and Hazel Ziegler, all of Bucyrus; Misses Ruth Kleinmaier and Madge Cooper of Marion.

WAINWRIGHT GETS HORSE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 28—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright had a new horse to ride today—seven-year-old Dolly Dare. Detective James Matowitz of the Cleveland police made the presentation between halves of the Cleveland-San Francisco All-America conference football game yesterday. Gen. Wainwright had admired the horse when Matowitz rode it in an exhibition in Mexico City last spring.

RITES FOR GALION ATTORNEY TUESDAY

Dean C. Talbott Stricken Suddenly at O.S.U. Grid Game.

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 28—Last rites for Dean C. Talbott, 58, prominent Galion attorney and owner of the Hotel Talbott building, will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Snyder funeral home, here. Rev. Norman R. Somerville, pastor of First Methodist church, will be assisted in the services by Rev. R. R. Elliker, of First Reformed church. Burial will be made in Fairview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Attorney Talbott, a former Ohio State athlete was stricken suddenly with a heart attack while he was watching the Ohio State-Minnesota football game in Columbus. He was rushed to a Red Cross Mobile unit following the fatal attack which occurred in the first half of the game. He had gone to Columbus Friday on business and was registered at the Deshler-Wallick hotel. At the funeral home he was identified from papers found on his person. Word was sent to Galion immediately. He was unaccompanied by either relatives or friends at the game.

Born in Galion, he was the son of John M. and Eva V. Cooper Talbott. He was married to Ada L. Whitesel of Galion. The only survivors are his widow and mother, both of 342 and 342½ Harding Way West, respectively.

In Galion High school, Talbott started his athletic career before going to Ohio State university where he was a pitcher on the Ohio State baseball team. He received degree of law and liberal arts degrees at Ohio State in 1911. He was director of the Galion Federal Savings and Loan company and attorney for the organization. He conducted an active law practice in Galion and formerly was associated with his father prior to his father's death. At one time Talbott served as city solicitor. He owned real estate in Galion and Columbus besides the Hotel Talbott which was named for him. He was a member of the Columbus Athletic Club, the First Methodist church, the Galion Kiwanis club.

The Talbott home on Harding Way West is a showplace of the city, a large white two story home on the main street, distinguished with white columns which extend the height of the house.

HIGH SCHOOLS ON PROBATION

Ohio Athletic Group Takes Action Against Two for Gridiron Fracas.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28—The Ohio High School Athletic association today placed on probation two member schools—Mifflin, of Franklin county and Hanging Rock of Lawrence—for incidents on their football fields.

OHSAA Commissioner H. W. Emswiler said Mifflin's probationary period grew out of "a fracas involving spectators" that followed Grove City's 7-0 triumph at Mifflin last weekend.

It could be interpreted, he said, "as an empathic warning that Mifflin and other schools must provide adequate police at athletic contests to control spectators and anyone else involved." The school will be on probation the rest of this year and through next football season, Emswiler declared, adding that a recurrence automatically would result in suspension from the OHSAA.

Results from Coach's Action

The action against Hanging Rock resulted from Coach Larry Wagner's removing his team from the field in the third period of a Sept. 27 game with Washington Township of Blacktork. The school was placed on probation the rest of this year and all of next.

"We simply can't have coaches taking their teams off the field every time they're dissatisfied with the officiating," Emswiler said. "We've had more of that this season than any I recall," he added.

He said there was "no excuse" for such action, because teams are required to agree on officials before each game and that once the contest starts, it's entirely in the hands of the whistle blowers.

"Any team that leaves the field must be disciplined according to association rules," the commissioner asserted.

Approved by Board

He said today's rulings were approved by the OHSAA's state board of control in a weekend meeting here.

The case of Wellsville High school, whose coach, Mearle Atkins, took his gridders off the field last weekend in a game with Mingo Junction, still was under consideration and Emswiler promised a ruling "within a few days."

In other action, the board accepted Piqua Catholic High school into membership, and named A. N. Smith of Elyria as Ohio's representative on the advisory board of the national basketball rules committee to succeed Floyd Baker, former Martins Ferry coach now in Richmond, Ind.

COAL STRIKE TO HIT STEEL PRODUCTION

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28—Nearly all steel mills would start reducing output promptly in event of another walkout at the soft coal mines this year, the magazine Steel reported today.

The trade journal noted that coal output over the past few months has been substantial but said a considerable tonnage has been moving abroad and steel producers generally have not been able to build normal inventory since the 59-day suspension last spring.

"A coal strike would further aggravate an already tight situation in metallurgical coke, on which sellers recently have begun to prorate shipments among their customers for the second time this year," the magazine said. "Because of coke shortage some foundries are substituting anthracite in egg and broken sizes with good success."

Steel said prospects of general decontrol of the steel industry "continue interesting but uncertain. Many steel interests expect lifting of price ceilings by the end of the year or earlier, but so shifting is the attitude of the administration on various aspects of decontrol that firm conclusions at this time are difficult to draw. Possibility of early action, however, has tended to ease steel demand somewhat and is definitely retarding movement of scrap in some quarters."

Steel production declined only one-half point to 90 per cent of capacity last week despite a strike at Republic Steel Corp.'s Cleveland plant which shut down all open hearths. Increases in other districts nearly offset this loss.

INGRID BERGMAN SAYS SHE REGRETS SIGNING IN PLAY

Didn't Know Washington Theater Barred Negroes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—Ingrid Bergman will appear in a new play here tomorrow night, but she insists it is only because she did not know earlier that Negroes are barred from the theater chosen for the play's pre-Broadway opening.

The screen and stage star will appear in "Joan of Lorraine," by Maxwell Anderson. The play will run three weeks at George Washington university's Lisner auditorium, whose policy is under criticism by the Committee for Racial Democracy in the nation's capital.

University officials have referred to the board of trustees the question of whether Negroes will be admitted to the auditorium.

Declaring that "entertainment is for everybody," the Swedish actress told reporters:

"If I had known of discrimination before I signed I wouldn't have come. I heard in the midst of rehearsals a few days ago that no Negro can come into the theater. And in the capital city, too!"

SAYS G.O.P. WOULD STOP OPA'S RETURN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28—Election of a Republican majority in congress would forestall return of OPA regulations on retail food commodities, Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins (R-Ohio) believes.

In an address yesterday before the annual meeting of the Ohio Retail Food Dealers association, Jenkins said:

"The retail grocer must retain his right to set his own prices and the buyer must retain his right to refuse (if he wants to) to pay those prices. Those rights have been abrogated through regulations and interference from the OPA.

"The independent grocer has been fighting without help except from his associations in the cities, state and nation. Even though the President and the congress are Democratic and therefore friendly to OPA, a Republican congress could prevent regulations of the retail grocers' business simply by not appropriating the funds to allow the OPA to live."

The Ironton, O., congressman is a member of the house ways and means committee and the congressional food investigating committee.

Shoes Now Soled With Soy Bean Compounds

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 28—Shoe leather stocks are "just about depleted," but more than 75,000,000 pairs of shoes soled with a compound of soy beans, walnut shells and sawdust, have been manufactured, an inventor of substitute shoe materials said today.

Elliott L. Simpson, New York City, an exhibitor at the national shoe fair which opens here today, said in a statement that the soling which looks like the "finest leather, but wears better," contains "soya bean, pulverized walnut shells and sawdust."

Simpson said the new sole is more flexible and provides a better cushion for the foot than leather. Manufacturers who tested the sole, he added, reported no signs of wear after four months strenuous use.

Dominican Republic Reports Red Revolt

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 28—The Miami Herald today quoted a cable message from Manuel De Moya at Ciudad Trujillo as saying armed Communists began a wave of rioting in the Dominican Republic's capital on Saturday night.

The cable from De Moya, secretary to President Rafaele Trujillo, said:

"Last night (Saturday) the Communists tried a coup d'etat. They notified the authorities of their intention to hold a meeting. In the early afternoon they distributed knives, machetes and clubs, and at 10 p. m. attacked foreigners and unarmed citizens."

Post Contributes To Community Fund

A contribution of $10 was made to the Marion Community Foundation's financial campaign and plans were drawn to take part in the Armistice day observance at a meeting of Veterans Post No. 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Wednesday night.

Stanley Wormell, commander, announced arrangements for presentation of a citation to Station WMRN on Sunday, Nov. 10, at 2:45 p. m. The citation, awarded by the national organization, is being given in recognition of the station's program, "Calling All Veterans," presented in cooperation with the Veterans administration.

Announcement was made that Harry G. Baker, post quartermaster and senior vice commander of the Tenth district, has been appointed department chairman of the by-laws committee and also chairman of the department legislature committee of the Eighth Ohio Congressional district. Five applications, one reinstatement and one transfer were received, and a report made on progress of the newly-acquired home and club. An invitation was received to attend the annual stag party of the post at Upper Sandusky Wednesday. The party will open at noon and continue through the afternoon and evening. A turkey dinner will be served. A social hour and lunch followed the meeting. At a meeting set for Nov. 15 a class of candidates will be instituted.

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 — Doesn't seem that FM sound broadcasting is going to have everything its own way in the higher frequencies in which it operates and where there is space for lots of stations. It has a competitor, as yet in a small way—HIFAM.

What's that? Transposed into engineering parseology it's "High Fequency AM." As a further explanation, AM is the same system of transmission used in standard broadcasting.

Out at Bloomington, Ind., a radio engineer, Sarkes Tarzain, says these things have developed in these tests, under way since July:

A satisfactory signal can be delivered in all parts of hilly Bloomington; a low-cost converted can turn any broadcast set into HIFAM receiver; a combination broadcast and HIFAM set is inexpensive; an FM can receive the signal; reception is free of static and noise with the quality high, the system is very stable.

STOCKS STUMBLE AS MILD RALLY FAILS

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Stocks generally stumbled in today's market after a mild rallying attempt failed to get anywhere.

An early flurry in the gold mines on reports, subsequently denied by Washington authorities, that the yellow metal price would be hoisted, put these issues up 1 to 2 points or so but they ultimately retreated. Dealings were slow after the opening and declines of fractions to 2 or more predominated near the fourth hour.

Conspicuous in the backward area were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Western Union "A," Anaconda, Kennecott, Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Co., General Electric, Union Carbide, Southern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, and N. Y. Central.

Sentiment was clouded by weakness of cotton which broke the limit of $10 a bale before attracting support. Bonds were mixed.

In the curb, Bohack common and preferred pushed up on a pleasing profits compilation. Lake Shore and Hollinger Consolidated stiffened. Laggards were U. S. Foil "B," Cities Service, Standard Oil and United Stores.

300 AT GIRL SCOUT VESPER SERVICE HERE

Service Marks Opening of Annual Observance.

An audience of more than 300 persons attended the vesper service which opened Girl Scout week yesterday afternoon at Calvary Evangelical church. Mrs. Stanley Feaver, Girl Scout executive, conducted the service and a meditation on "Friendship" was conducted by Rev. H. M. McAdow, pastor of Wesley Methodist church. Mrs. J. W. Baker, organist, presided for the musical part of the program which opened with the singing of "America."

The candle-lighting service, symbolizing Girl Scout friendship throughout the world, was held and the "Hymn of Scouting" was the musical theme. Boy Scouts assisted in the service by acting as ushers. They were Richard Bracy, John Boler, James Finnegan, Ed Galyk, Peter Huber, James Kilberry, Gene Little, Bernard Lyon, Richard and John Malarkey, Don Nash, William Moebel and Robert Shumaker.

The week's observance will include a party for all adults participating in Girl Scouting to be held at 8:15 tonight in the basement at Harding High school, following a council meeting at 7 o'clock. Saturday afternoon there will be a party for all Girl Scouts in the Harding High school gymnasium.

Thrift Shop Now Open Two Days Each Week Here

An opportunity extended the public to assist the Marion Nurses' home fund, and to take advantage to their own benefit of the attractive articles offered for sale by The Thrift shop, has been doubled with opening of the shop two days a week, Mrs. H. K. Mouser announced.

The shop, set up recently by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Marion County Academy of Medicine, is located at 175 East Center street, and is open for business on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Articles of wearing apparel, costume jewelry, objects of art, and miscellaneous pieces of various sorts, given by interested persons, are on sale, and the proceeds will go to the fund for the proposed Nurses' home, a project of the nurses' wives group.

Clothing available at the shop includes dresses from sizes 14 to 38, Mrs. Mouser stated, all in good condition, along with coats, men's suits, children's clothing, and other various kinds of apparel.

Among the decorative and art ticular pieces is a scene painted and donated by Mrs. C. G. Smith, and as Christmas nears, various handmade gifts will be placed on display for sale, Mrs. Mouser said. On things of value which are donated to be sold, a commission on the sale will be given by the shop to the donor, she stated.

SIX INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Two Seriously Hurt Are Taken To Marion City Hospital.

Six persons were hurt, two seriously, in automobile accidents near here Saturday and Sunday, the state highway patrol reported.

Mrs. Lete Shutzer, 30, of Ada and Mrs. Ruth Emma Wood, 46, of near Marion are in City hospital today in "fair" condition, following an automobile accident at the intersection of Routes 30-S and 37 about 15 miles west of Marion Sunday at 6 p. m.

Mrs. Shutzer suffered a possible skull fracture and shock; Mrs. Wood a broken collar bone, possible fractured ribs, head lacerations and shock.

They were passengers in a car driven by S. D. Wood, 50 of near Marion. They ran collision at the junction with one driven by Richard M. Burgbacher, 24, of near Kenton. Burgbacher was taken to McKittrick hospital in Kenton suffering from face, arm and knee lacerations. Mrs. Shutzer and Mrs. Wood were brought here by the Rowe and Unrapher ambulance.

5 Marionites Hurt

Three Marion people were hurt in a three-car collision near Mt. Gilead Sunday at 5 p. m.

They are Mrs. Mayer Strain 56, of 711 Harding highway east, Miss Jean L. Freshour, 16, of 193 Kenmore avenue, and Bowe Freshour 32, her brother, same address.

Miss Freshour is in Galion City hospital today suffering from shock. Mrs. Strain was treated for lacerations of the head and leg and released. Mr. Freshour received first aid treatment from the highway patrol for a head injury.

The injured were occupants of a car driven by Clarus J. Strain, 56, of the Harding highway address. Their car, northbound on Route 30-S just south of the Morrow-Crawford county line, was struck by a southbound car driven by Arthur W. Riley, 22, of near Mt. Victory. The Strain machine was upset in the ditch.

The state highway patrol said Riley's car had collided with a car in front of him and planed off into the adjacent lane. The stopped car was driven by Cecil H. Bowman, 31, of near Galion. The patrol said he had stopped to pick up a hitch-hiker.

Four Other Accidents

Four other accidents involving no injuries and little property damage were reported by the state patrol.

An automobile driven by Robert H. Mitchell, 18, of 489 Mary street, went out of control and turned over in a ditch at the junction of Route 4 and Smeltzers road eight miles south of Marion Sunday at 11 p. m.

Cars driven by James H. Fitzpatrick, 40, of near Edison and John D. Beal, 40, of near Lexington collided in the square at Caledonia Sunday at 12:05 a. m.

A car driven by Francis Drumm, 42, of Kenton collided with a trailer-truck driven by Rosene Ellis, 27, of near Linn on Route 30-S 14 miles west of Marion Saturday at 8 p. m.

Automobiles driven by Joseph P. Clary, 23, of near Kenton and Kenneth Gwinner, 20, of 647 Miami street collided at the intersection of Route 23 and county road 136 two miles south of Marion Saturday at 7:45 p. m.

Soap-making on an industrial scale is believed to have originated in Italy at the time of the Roman Empire.

Morning Coughs
Often Due to Bronchial Asthma

Do you cough and cough, especially mornings and at night? At times do you feel like you were tearing yourself to pieces trying to get rid of strangling mucus and still you choke, gasp for breath, wheeze and often can't sleep? The cause of these devitalizing symptoms may be recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma. In such cases, the very first dose of Mendaco, a physician's prescription, usually goes right to work thru the blood helping relax tiny clogged up stuffy tubes in the bronchial tubes, then helps loosen and remove thick, strangling phlegm. This helps you get good fresh air into your lungs and promotes restful sleep, which is a natural aid to greater energy. Mendaco is not a smoke, inhalant or spray, but is in tablet form for convenience. Get Mendaco today from your druggist on this guarantee: Unless completely satisfied with the relief it gives you in the first bottle, return the empty bottle and get your money back. Don't suffer needlessly. Get Mendaco today. Only 60c.

Higher Prices Ring Death Knell for Practice of Tipping

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28 — It's taken higher prices, it seems to give the public courage to banish the bothersome and expensive business of tipping the barber, the porter, the waitress and the taxicab driver.

It's come to the point where a bellhop can't make $12 a day in gratuities. With the advent of $1 haircuts, tips virtually disappeared, barbers say. Cab drivers report a 50 per cent slump in tips since recent price increases.

One bellhop who earns $9 a week and made $10 to $12 a day additional in tips during the halcyon days of the war complains that people who used to proffer quarters now give him 15 cents for a service.

A waitress in a Euclid avenue restaurant moans that tips have shrunk from about $4 to $2 a day —and for the $2 "you have to kill them with kindness and at the end of the day you're ready to kill yourself." . . . . . .

Shoe shine boys say they gadge a nickel now and then.

Two Surplus Sales at Ordnance Plant

Two sales running concurrently at the Scioto Ordnance Plant were announced today by Frank Abbruscato and Meyer Berliner, representatives of the New York chemical procurement district.

The sales will include approximately $8,000 of small lot serviceable items and approximately $7,000 of salvage items.

Included in the small lot sale are new hardware equipment and electrical and miscellaneous supplies. The salvage items include electric motors, hand trucks, rubber hose, ladders and nuts and bolts.

Inspection of the material opened Saturday and will close Nov. 9, with items on display from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. daily. Bids will be opened Nov. 12 in New York.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"As far as her physical welfare is concerned, yes," I told Harry Underwood slowly.

"Something's on your mind," he said. 'Aren't you going to broadcast it?"

"I'm trying to find words," I told him truthfully, for the thought I was voicing had come to me only a little while before, and I was still confused about it.

He glanced at his wrist watch, and strode toward the door.

"Take your time," he said. "I'll just go to the kitchen and tell Katie to knock on this door five minutes before the men are ready to call a halt on their appetites. In that way nobody will be kept waiting. The Chief wants to get those men started back in record time."

"When you come back, I shall risk the wrath of Jove, and interpret his meaning myself," I said as he put his hand on the knob of the door.

He whirled and looked at me in stark amazement.

"You must be desperate," he said, and when he came back, he added a cautionary word.

"Don't get quixotic, like Marion," he said. "But, of course, whatever you tell me will not be repeated, even if the Chief uses thumbscrews. But you must hurry. Katie reports that she 'tinks dey all boorst in ten meenits more'."

Needs a Laugh

I needed the laugh his mimicry gave me, as he very well knew, and bolstered by it, I faced him unflinchingly.

"Do you know there is another guest in the secret room downstairs?" I said.

"No, I didn't," he said. "Someone who came out with you?"

"Yes, Jack Bickett," I answered. "He's conferring down there now with Hugh and Lee Chow."

"Well, I'll be eternally berled in erl!" he ejaculated. "I knew Jack was concerned in all the stuff which is circling around Hugh's head, but I didn't know he was coming out here. And I gave a gander at everybody in both cars. Which was he? No! Wait! I have it. The other five men are going back. He must be the pseudo police officer that your father called aside for a special task."

"Go to the head of the class," I said, smiling. "Yes, that was Jack, but I want you to believe that it I didn't think it an imperative necessity, I would never anticipate my father's telling you about it."

"We'll take all that for granted," he said, with an admonitory glance at his wrist watch. "Tell me about the imperative necessity."

Suspicious as a Monkey

"It's just this," I said. "Carolyn Brixton is as inquisitive and suspicious as a monkey, and as cunning. I am so afraid that she will stumble upon the secret of the hidden room, or find out that Jack is here. And that is where Marion comes in."

"You mean," he said, "that Marion must not be told of Jack's presence here. She already knows about the secret room."

"I mean nothing of the sort," I said, with decision. "She must know everything, but she must be made to understand that it is her patriotic duty to watch Carolyn every minute of the time. The rest of us can take care of Helena, and we'll try to keep track of Carolyn, also, but frankly we need somebody of her own age whom she will trust."

My face was suddenly crimson at my own words.

"It sounds awful," I know," I said, "setting Marion to spy upon her room-mate, the sister of her fiance. But, honestly, I do not see any other way out. Carolyn Brixton is like a stick of dynamite with a fuse attached. I think Marion is the only person who can extinguish the fuse."
